NEW CASTLE MAN TELLS OF CLEVELAND HORROR

FARMER DOESN'T WANT RELIEF IS WILL'S BELIEF

(Special to The News)
PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—The old farmer is getting his relief. I see today where they put a high tariff on "shingles and flax seed."

Hereafter, every time a farmer raised a good crop of "shingles," why, he had to compete with Argentine-grown "shingles." But with these two new tariffs, which the old agrarian is setting pretty.

They have taken the "shingles" off his roof so he can see the Republican viewpoint. He puts a flax seed poultice on his head and prays that he will never be so unfortunate as to be relieved again.

Yours, WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The boys who started out in straws Wednesday morning came out this morning adorned in feds and in top coats. There ain't no justice.

One thing this morning was raring to go and that was the rivers. The Mahoning was booming along and so were the Shenango and Nemah. For that matter, there must have been quite a lot of rain during the night for that rivers were swollen considerably.

The state highway department workers are still doing their stuff on the highways of the county. There are 200 men working here now on the roads and if you will think that over it means a payroll of about a thousand dollars a day.

Boy Scouts of the county are getting ready for their summer camp. The organization just purchased a new truck for hauling purposes and Executive J. Lee Chabran is getting the camp buildings and plans whittled into shape.

New Castle will need more branch libraries and perhaps a larger main branch if progress does not cease. Each month according to the librarian's report there is a tremendous increase over the same period the year before.

Saturday morning the reviewers met at the court house and will decide on the weighty matter of redistricting. If you have anything to say tell the committee in charge instead of waiting until its over and then not being satisfied with the decision.

It seems to this member of the Pa. News family that the boys clubs who are doing away with indoor meetings and starting to take night hikes are getting into a box. Hikes in the winter are different because one is dressed for the occasion. A lot of boys clubs have halted their indoor meetings and have started to do their chinning out on the damp ground these evenings.

Tonight is the night of the Chamber of Commerce banquet at The Castleton ball room. There will be a large crowd of men there and the entertainment promises to be one which will be remembered. The Red Arrow quartet which will be here is more than famous and are also popular radio stars.

Quite a few New Castle people were late for work this morning. Just (Continued On Page Two)

New Castle Man At Clinic Hospital As First Fire Starts

USES AMBULANCE
IN RESCUE WORK

Gives Graphic Picture Of Terrifying Incidents During Fire

The fact that Thomas Augustine, county mercantile appraiser, was ill in the Cleveland Clinic Hospital and that Wednesday had been designated as the day he was to be brought back to his home, was the incident that resulted in Charles R. Kelley, funeral director, and Charles Augustine, local police officer, and son of Thomas Augustine, witnessing the terrible holocaust at the Cleveland Clinic Hospital, Euclid avenue, Cleveland, O., Wednesday noon and having the opportunity of assisting the rescuers in getting the injured and dead out of the death trap that the hospital building proved to be.

Saved By Delay.

"The difference in time," said Charles R. Kelley to a representative of The News, this morning "and some slight delay in getting there," are probably all that prevented Thomas Augustine, his son Charles and myself from being in the building itself at the time of the explosion, as Thomas Augustine would have been required to go to the building that was blown up to see his doctor before leaving and would have been in there about that time but for the incidents mentioned."

Thomas Augustine was brought home last night in the Kelley ambulance, accompanied by his son and Mr. Kelley, who has played a prominent part in the rescue of a number of people from the wrecked building.

That the situation may be better understood, the explosion occurred in the examination or front building of the Cleveland Clinic of which the renowned Dr. Crile is head. It was a four story fire proof structure constructed in mezzanine style, being open in the center part from the first floor to the top with a big skylight at the top. The offices, examining rooms, etc. were all along the outer walls.

There is a hotel between this building and the main eight story hospital building of the institution. The hospital uses the sixth floor of the hotel building. The building that was the scene of the blast was also used for (Continued On Page Five)

Miss Johnston Injured In Cleveland Disaster

Miss Elizabeth Smith of Boyles avenue received a message late last night, stating that her niece, Miss Maryland Johnston, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Johnston, former resident of this city, was among the persons injured in the Cleveland Clinic hospital explosion, Wednesday.

Miss Johnston was severely gassed and burned and also received injuries when she jumped from the fourth floor of the hospital into a net spread by the firemen below. She was removed to the Mt. Sinai hospital and is said to be in a critical condition.

Miss Johnston was secretary and attending assistant to Dr. Mullen, an eye, ear and throat specialist, who was also among those severely injured. She had been associated with Dr. Mullen for the past four years at the Cleveland Clinic hospital.

Harry Lusk of Edison avenue, this city, was among those whom fate smiled on in the terrible disaster. Mr. Lusk who had been a patient at the hospital, had recovered and returned to his home here Monday.

Hundreds of New Castle and Lawrence county residents have been patients at the famous hospital during the past few years, and the institution has been visited by countless others, so that it is well known to local people.

As Rescue Work Reached Height In Cleveland Clinic Blast

View of the Cleveland Clinic hospital, Cleveland, snapped at the height of the rescue work following an acid explosion and fire that took more than 100 lives and injured over 100. Many of the injured were dragged to the roof of the building where doctors and nurses worked over them as the photo shows.

Football Star Gives Blood For Transfusion Operation Last Night

Between courage on the football field and courage in the hospital operating room there seems to be a wide margin, but apparently in the case of S. G. "Jiggs" Havilla, full-back of the Westminster College football team, who on Wednesday evening submitted to a blood transfusion in an effort to spare the life of Mrs. A. W. Madge of Grove City.

On Wednesday morning a call went out from the Shenango Valley hospital for a volunteer who would give some of his blood. It was an emergency measure designed to save the life of Mrs. Madge, who is suffering from pernicious anemia.

When the matter came to Havilla's attention he volunteered without an instant's hesitation. He was brought into the Shenango Valley, and in a microscopic examination of his blood it was found that it was the exact type of blood needed.

FRIEDRICH SHAFEN,
Germany, May 16.—Heading out toward the broad Atlantic on her first trans-oceanic flight as a purely commercial liner of the air, the giant dirigible "Graf Zeppelin" was on her way today for the United States with a complement of eighteen passengers and a crew of thirty.

The great Zeppelin, which already has two successful trans-Atlantic crossings to its credit, slipped away from its hangar here at 5:53 o'clock this morning (12:53 a. m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time) just as dawn was breaking over Lake Constance.

Among the passengers was Mrs. Mary Pierce, wife of a New York stock broker, who after exercising the traditional womanly prerogative of changing her mind several times, embarked on the thrilling journey as the only woman aboard the air liner.

Hope For Weather Clear

The start was made under heavily overcast skies after a night of pouring rain. The downpour ceased, however, a few moments before the take-off.

Find Most of Victims of Disaster at Clinic
Hosp. al Died as Result of Inhaling Poison Fumes From Burning X-Ray

Are In Progress.

CLEVELAND, May 16.—The blasts and fire in the Crile Cleveland Clinic where 118 were killed and scores injured, was a case of pure accident according to Coroner Pearce, in a statement today.

Coroner Pearce issued a statement setting forth that in his opinion the disaster was "a case of pure accident."

"As far as I have gone into the investigation," he said, "I feel that it was a case of pure accident."

"Death was caused in most cases by poisonous fumes inhaled by victims and in some cases from shock."

"There are reports that a steam fitter with a blow torch was working near the room where the X-ray films were stored and other similar reports have reached me, which I intend to go into thoroughly."

"I will confer with police and county officials and start a thorough investigation and, if necessary, hold an inquest. In case I find it necessary to hold an inquest I probably will call a jury to hear the evidence."

City officials warned all other hospitals using X-ray machines to take extra precautions against another similar disaster. Furthermore, they plan to investigate the system in use at each hospital for storing X-ray film.

Dr. George Crile, founder of the clinic, assured authorities every precaution had been taken to protect patients.

The coroner plans to confer with the prosecuting attorney as to the advisability of holding an inquest.

May Be Duplicates In List

Morgue officials and those at the hospital in charge of using the identified dead explained that because of the number of sources from which the information is gleaned there may be some duplications of names in existing death lists.

Because of constant demands made upon them by relatives of the dead and by persons seeking information about the victims, officials in charge of identification officials explained that it would be some time yet before the lists can be re-checked and possible duplications eliminated.

Of the several score persons suffering ill effects from the deadly brown gas which spread to all corners of the huge clinic following the explosion of X-ray film, between 10 (Continued On Page Two)

Deeds Of Heroism At Hospital Disaster

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 16.—Doctors and taxi drivers, salesmen and painters—professionals made no distinction to the heroes of the Cleveland Clinic fire. Many of them were trapped and paid with their lives for their heroism.

Passersby joined with doctors who themselves escaped, in dashing into the flames and inferno of the clinic fire.

Dr. G. W. Crile, head of the ill-fated institution, labored with the strength of desperation to save his patients. He was everywhere at once. His orders probably saved many lives.

W. H. Dickerson, an auto salesman, led two others into the blazing building and dragged 17 persons out of the gas and fire. Only two survived.

Bob Charles, negro garage employee, was one of the first to scale the walls of the building with a ladder. It was believed that nearly a dozen men and women owe their lives to his efforts. Finding a ladder with which he sought to reach a window too short, the giant negro hoisted the ladder on his shoulders and held it while several persons scrambled down to safety.

A butcher risked his life to save a stricken nurse, and he was gassed and badly injured before he himself escaped the holocaust.

Straw hat season was warm and bright, lovely day and a moonlit night. Out this morning in plenty of storm, where oh where is that weather warm. Rain a driving into my nose, soaked my socks and my working clothes, signs of snow and of chunks of hail, weatherman rates a soft spot in jail. Straw hats yesterday, mists today, sky was blue but it's turned to gray. Bring on summer and bring it fast, winter we thought was a long time last. Tech Students Battle Police In Pittsburgh

Five-Hundred Carnegie Tech Students Stage Free-For-All Fight With Policemen

COLLEGE OFFICIALS ARE INVESTIGATING

PITTSBURGH, May 15.—Authorities at Carnegie Institute of Technology today began an investigation into the causes of a battle between some 500 students of the school and police from four stations on the campus of the institution last night.

From students and police, Dean A. W. Tarbell hoped to bring to light the reason why the students engaged in a pitched battle that lasted for an hour, resulted in the arrest of three students and minor injuries to a score of others.

Indirectly, it was believed, the annual "senior ducking"—when even a lowly freshman may grab a lordly senior and gently, or harshly, subject him to an imagined shower—lay at the bottom of the melee.

But university authorities want to know why, when police arrived on the scene after residents had complained of the noise, the students chose to lay down a barrage of bricks, bottles, chemicals and electric light bulbs.

The officers also would like to find out who—after the students quit the field and retired to their dormitories—spent some time describing the millions of the law in no gentle nor uncertain terms.

COLLINGWOOD SCHOOL FIRE IS RECALLED

(Hinton-Hughes, News Service.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 15.—The clinic fire and gas tragedy, Cleveland's greatest disaster in 20 years, today recalled the Collingwood school fire, in 1908, when 172 pupils and two teachers died.

There was a striking similarity between the two holocausts. First reports had only one or two dead in each case, but as hours passed and more definite information was obtained the toll as given out by newspapers gradually increased.

In the Collingwood disaster, hundreds of children, drilled to march out in orderly manner in case of fire, became panic-stricken and blocked their own escape by piling up in doorways and exits. Doors opened inward and rescuers were unable to gain entrance to the dying children piled up against them.

Frantic parents stood helplessly outside and the obsolete Collingwood fire fighting equipment proved itself inadequate. The Collingwood disaster resulted in a country-wide move for fireproofing of school buildings and doors opening outward.

some one was hurt by a group of boys who ran away, when the train stopped. The crowd found the boy with both legs terribly crushed as a result of the car wheels running over him.

The Book and Ledge ambulance was called and removed the terribly injured youth to the New Castle hospital. He was conscious when found and remained conscious all the way to the hospital, telling who he was and where he lived which made it possible to get his family to the hospital in a short time after he arrived.

The right leg was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated immediately following his arrival at the hospital. The other was also in a terribly crushed condition which indicated the possibility of amputation.

He was uninjured above the hips. He died about three hours later as a result of the terrible shock sustained in the accident and the amputation of his leg. He was removed to a local undertaking establishment following his death where the body was prepared for burial.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell after viewing the body and making an investigation issued a certificate of accidental death.

Walter Potoczna was born in this city June 3, 1914, and was in his 15th year. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Potoczna. He attended the Ben Franklin junior high school. He is survived by his parents and two sisters, Wanda and Clara.

The funeral arrangements are not yet complete, but it is hoped to hold the funeral Saturday morning, May 18, at one o'clock. The funeral announcement will be made later.

GIANT ZEPPELIN STARTS JOURNEY TOWARD AMERICA

off was made, and Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible, was hopeful that favorable weather would be encountered all the way across.

The passengers were summoned from the Kurpark Hotel, where they had whiled away their last night on land by dancing and merry-making, soon after five o'clock, and they took their places in the luxurious cabin of the dirigible while the ship was still inside the hangar.

The "Graf Zeppelin" was then moved out of her shed last first. The ground crew, consisting of some 300 men, had some difficulty in moving the ship around because the field had been recently plowed, but at ten minutes before six o'clock her nose had been pointed toward the south and all was ready for the start.

Then came Dr. Eckener's stentorian order: "Let's go!"

Woman Gets Thrill

The ropes holding the "Graf Zeppelin" to earth were slipped, and slowly and gracefully the great ship pointed toward the heavens. At the windows could be seen the figures of the passengers. Probably the most excited was Mrs. Pierce, who shouted as the Zeppelin got under way.

"This is the greatest thrill I ever had!"

Mrs. Pierce revealed to International News Service a few minutes before the start that she plans to return to Europe abroad the Zeppelin when the ship makes its eastward voyage from Lakehurst.

At a height of only 100 feet, the silver ship then circled above the administration buildings of the Zeppelin Works, her glistening sides gleaming like a Leviathan of the sky as she wheeled majestically above the heads of the hundreds who had assembled to watch the take-off.

Before the start, Dr. Eckener revealed that he had planned a course taking the ship over Gibraltar, instead of Lore, in the South of France as had originally been planned. Last minute weather indications decided him on this move.

Stowaways Jailed

Half an hour before the start three stowaways were found in the hangar, hiding near the ladders which rested against the side of the ship. The discovery of these three made a total of nine would-be adventures who attempted to obtain gratuitous passage on the air liner. They were promptly taken and thrown into jail with the others who were imprisoned during the day.

A search of the interior of the liner before the get-away revealed no stowaways inside, so it is unlikely that Dr. Eckener will have to make good his threat to drop overboard with parachutes any stowaways found aboard.

To Reach Here Sunday

According to present indications, the "Graf Zeppelin" will arrive at her destination, the naval air station at Lakehurst, New Jersey, sometime Sunday.

Dr. Eckener believes that the trip will take about eighty hours, his original intention to fly via the great circle route having been balked up by unfavorable weather over the North Atlantic.

By taking the great circle course the ship might have made the voyage in sixty-five hours, unless strong headwinds were encountered. But Dr. Eckener felt it advisable to sacrifice speed in the interests of safety, so the southern route was decided upon.

But even this may not guarantee a calm crossing as thirty-five mile an hour winds are reported in the vicinity of the Azores.

and 14 were reported in a serious condition.

Dr. Crile Battles Gas

Dr. George W. Crile, founder of the nationally known clinic, fought battle after battle against the poisonous gas, working through the night and into the dawn without a moment's rest to save the hapless patients in his institution.

His nerves steered to carry him through the tortures of witnessing scores of his patients die a horrible death. Dr. Crile suffered a staggering blow when one of his dearest friends and associates, Dr. John Phillips, succumbed.

Dr. Crile endeavored to save his friend's life through blood transfusion. Crile himself was at work in the hospital when the explosion and fire swept the clinic, but escaped.

Many who succumbed during the night died suddenly when physicians had hoped they might recover. Their death, as in most of the other cases, was caused by the breaking down of blood corpuscles and the neutralization of oxygen in the blood stream. This permitted the tissues to absorb poisonous mineral matter inhaled by the victims.

Whether fire followed the explosion or vice versa authorities were unable to say until ruins of the hospital have been carefully examined. Four separate investigations were being organized, but because of the condition of the ruins they were expected to make little progress the first day.

Governor on Scene

Gov. Meyers V. Cooper, who is here today from Columbus, expressed the sympathy of the state for the victims and their survivors and gave assurance that the state would lend every assistance in the investigations.

In the opinion of Dr. Crile and Dr. W. E. Lower, also of the clinic staff, the devastating gas was nitrous peroxide. Both were unable to account for the origin of the explosion and fire. The stated that every possible precaution had been taken for protection of their patients.

Conditions of the dead indicated that only a few were the victims of the explosion itself. Most of them inhaled the deadly gas given off by burning X-ray films which experts say is comparable to gases used in warfare.

Persons familiar with the action of fire upon the type of film stored in the clinic related that explosions of great violence usually follow, and voiced the opinion that fire preceded the explosion. Because of the X-ray and other electro-medical apparatus used extensively in the clinic, they voiced the belief that defective electric wiring caused the fire.

The fire, if not caused by defective wiring, has not been accepted by authorities investigating the disaster, but it is one they will consider before arriving at a conclusion.

Yellow Powder Revealed

CLEVELAND, O., May 15.—A yellow, powder-like substance, gathered everywhere in the ruins of the flames-swept Cleveland Clinic building today, told a mute but graphic story of the death which overtook more than a hundred persons.

From basement to skylights a thin layer of yellow dust has settled—an aftermath of the cloud of noxious vapor which permeated every cranny of the burning building, and killed almost all who came in contact with it.

Some who breathed it into their lungs died where they fell in writhing heaps in hallways, operating rooms and stairways. Others staggered out into the corridor where their skin turned to a ghastly greenish hue and death overtook them.

Die of Poisoning

They died of nitric oxide and other nitrogen poisoning, generated by burning X-ray film. On that the experts agree.

The gas struck quickly. None who breathed any quantity of it lived to reach the fresh air for which scores threw themselves in insane panic toward closed elevator doors and walls.

Throughout the gutted building may be found traces of the desperate struggles of dying men and women. Bloodstains on walls and doors show the force with which the terror-stricken victims threw themselves at every faint chance to reach fresh air and drive out the stifling yellow fumes which were choking them to death.

STAR LORE

HOW CELESTIAL DISTANCES ARE EXPRESSED

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

Before attempting to discuss the actual size of the Milky Way Galaxy, it is necessary to become familiar with a few of the lesser distances. For instance, light travels from the moon to the earth in 1.3 seconds, a distance of 240,000 miles. The sun is more remote, requiring 500 seconds for the light to come across to the earth. The speed of light is the greatest of any velocity known to man. Light travels about 6,000 billion miles in a year, and for convenience star distances are computed in light years. The nearest star is 4 1/3 light years away.

Gambling is Foolish, But
R. H. Grant, Big Salesman.
A Surprised Gorilla.
Birth Control.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE (Copyright, 1929, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Gambling in Wall Street is stupid and bound to end disastrously. No matter what the gambler wins, temporarily, he will lose that and more in the end and then stop gambling.

On the other hand, buying wisely in Wall Street, in installments, as you buy real estate, means investing in the United States.

If you want to invest in American steel, American telephones, or anything else American, you must buy in Wall Street.

For the Federal Reserve or any public official to denounce those that buy securities as though they were lepers, is ignorant impertinence. Americans have a right to buy what they choose with their own money, the right even to gamble with it if they are so foolish.

After much hesitation the Stock Exchange made up its mind to say something through its president. But it hasn't said half enough. A Federal Reserve bank, organized to prevent panics, and to maintain credit, doing all it can to keep millions of citizens in dread of money panics, needs plain talk.

Every man in the country's biggest business, automobile, is interested in salesmanship and the fact that R. H. Grant, formerly head salesman of the Chevrolet Motor company, has been made vice president of General Motors in charge of ALL General Motors sales.

This, as the learned J. C. Dayton, expert in advertising, points out, is "the largest selling job in the world." This country has solved the problem of production. The actual problem is intense and economical distribution. And that means SALESMANSHIP.

The big airship Graf Zeppelin plans to start on its second trip across the ocean with 50 odd passengers, including a female gorilla.

Darwin never expected that, nor did the gorilla.

Passengers also include the inventor of a cipher radio machine which will enable the passengers to send and receive messages in cipher, guaranteeing secrecy.

The Germans lost the war, but have not thus far lost the fight for leadership in aviation.

A New York court sets free individuals arrested on a charge of teaching birth control. That was not the "setup" when the people were arrested. But public opinion caused a change.

Temporarily it is decided that the woman, not some gentlemen with theories, may decide how many children the woman shall have.

The idea that God wants a sickly woman with six or seven sickly children to have another sickly child is complimentary to Divine wisdom. Besides, all the birth control in the world could not prevent it if the Lord willed it. He is omnipotent.

Those that oppose the debenture scheme for "farm relief" announce with horror that the "farm bonus plan" MIGHT cost the treasury $200,000,000 a year. They wouldn't be much if it gave genuine relief.

The trouble is that the "debenture" or bounty plan would add many millions to profits of middlemen who do all the exporting and little if any of the bounty would reach the farmers.

Two hundred million dollars isn't such a big sum.

Britain, more heavily taxed than any other nation on earth, distributes FIFTY MILLION POUNDS ($250,000,000) a year in doles to the unemployed.

The issue between Lloyd George and the Tories at the coming election will be Lloyd George's proposition to put the idle man to work and let them earn their $250,000,000, and more, building good roads, instead of continuing to feed an army of parasites.

Mrs. L. P. Stallworth and Mrs. Grace Morrison, both Texas ladies, met on the street in Amarillo.

Mrs. Stallworth "pumped" three bullets from an old-fashioned gun into Mrs. Morrison, now dead. She surrendered, telling the police: "That woman was a rival for my husband's affection."

That's a dangerous thing to do in Texas and in many other places. What a Texas just will do about the case you can guess.

Two fraternity presidents are expelled from Chicago's Northwestern university, their fraternities suspended.

The fraternities had served "gin-spiked punch" at entertainments.

It is easy to expel gin-drinking or gin-spiking students, but impossible, apparently, to expel the well-established bootleg industry.

THE LORD'S REQUIREMENT—He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but that thou shalt love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.—Micah 6:8.

PRAYER—Lord, Thou knowest our helplessness! Make Thy strength perfect in our weakness.

There can be no peace in a world where the press says "Italy demands large navy" when the truth is only one bald, ambitious man demands it.

Clarifying Of Law Suggested As Outcome Of Mellon Fight

Present Statute Excluding From Office Men With Business Interests Regarded By Many As Obsolete And Confusing

The need of clarifying the law governing the qualifications of a secretary of the treasury is the chief conclusion drawn from the contest in the senate over the eligibility of Secretary Andrew W. Mellon, who has held office under three presidents. The senate committee's action in voting down objections to Mr. Mellon because of his holding of stock in corporations is approved by a majority of the press as a common-sense proceeding.

"It is doubtful," the SCRANTON TIMES (Dem.) believes, "if there has been a secretary of the treasury in the last 25 years at least who did not have some stock holdings in corporations engaged in trade or commerce."

It might be well," the Pennsylvania daily adds, "for the senate, now that the question has been raised, to give attention to the amending and modernizing of the statute under which the attack on Mr. Mellon was made."

"Evidently the framers of the statute," according to the BUFFALO COURIER-EXPRESSION (Ind. Rep.), "intended to exclude only those who were directly or indirectly concerned or interested in carrying on the business, or who participated in managing or running the business, or in counseling and advising in reference to the management."

"If congress is really desirous of removing this point from the realm of political hectoring, it can easily do so by clarifying the language of the statute."

"The experience of 140 years," the PHILADELPHIA RECORD (Ind. Dem.) says, "shows that the law is illogical, obstructive and impractical. The dangers it seeks to avert are not to be legislated out of existence. The sole effective protection against them lies in the sense of honor and propriety in the conduct of presidents and cabinet officers that select."

"Remarkably that the committee 'discovered several precedents' in the FARGO FORUM (Rep.) states that 'these precedents, the opinion of the attorney general, and common sense have convinced everybody, except the Mellon-haters in the senate, that Mr. Mellon is a perfectly proper and logical holding of his office.'"

The EL PASO HERALD (Ind.) declares: "It is one of the most important departments. It calls for an efficient man, an expert in finance, as its head. Mellon is such a man. He has been one of the best treasury secretaries the United States has ever had."

"A successful secretary of the treasury," the SAN BERNARDINO SUN (Rep.) contends, "can only be a man who has played an active part in the handling of finances, otherwise he would not have the experience necessary for the post."

"The country generally believes that Mr. Mellon has been a very excellent secretary of the treasury. He has served under three presidents. He is credited with the responsibility for much of the rebuilding of the credit structure of the country."

The CHARLESTON EVENING POST (Ind. Dem.) agrees that "on the whole, Mr. Mellon has done well."

"President Hoover wants trained men in the government service," remarks the WATERLOO TRIBUNE (Ind. Prog.). "The farmers want dirt farmers on the various government boards which come in contact with farmers and the agricultural business. A man used to finance and business, without question, is necessary in the office of secretary of the treasury—more necessary now than at any time in the history of the country."

The KALAMAZOO GAZETTE (Ind.) holds that "surely the American people do not want the fiscal affairs of the government entrusted regularly to men who are wholly unschooled in the tasks of financial administration. If given a strict interpretation, the law invoked against Mr. Mellon would bar the very kind of men most needed as secretaries of the treasury."

"Chairman Norris," suggests the DAYTON DAILY NEWS (Ind. Dem.), "states by President Hoover's recent declaration that since discreditors of one law leads to disrespect for all, all laws must be respected and enforced alike. Norris and a minority beside held that, obsolete and foolish as the law is, it must be enforced as Mr. Hoover says, and that Mr. Mellon, accordingly, must go. They are over-ruled. Not to oppress Mr. Mellon, the law goes to grass. It is a setback for Mr. Hoover and his demand for law."

enforcement, for somehow the nullificationists' conduct appeals to a common man's common sense."

"Last year we voted in full consciousness that we should have Mr. Mellon or a man with his policies," suggests the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL (Ind.), "with the advice that he is surely a sounder selection for secretary of the treasury than some mediocre man holding office, perhaps, in some subsidiary of one of Mellon's big companies."

The SAVANNAH PRESS (Dem.) however, recalling the attempt of President Grant to appoint A. T. Stewart "very goods king," to this office, states: "It was obvious in the case of Mr. Stewart that even if he turned over his business interests to trustees, he still would not be eligible to the position. The fact that Andrew Mellon has resigned his numerous positions as director which he once occupied would not make him an impartial financier."

"The condemnation of those who have raised his point against the secretary is voiced by various papers. The FORT WORTH RECORD-TELEGRAM (Dem.) says: 'It is very late in the day to bring in an antiquated statute—if any—that a purely political expediency may have a peg upon which to hang.'"

The HAVESVILLE GAZETTE (Ind.) asserts that "the most that the opponents of Mellon have demonstrated is the reasonableness of their basis of opposition."

The HUNTINGTON ADVERTISER (Dem.) suggests that "if that were a rule to be applied generally to officeholders, there would not be a corporate guard left to run government anywhere."

"A campaign of sniping" is seen by the SEATTLE DAILY TIMES (Ind. Rep.), which explains that in its opinion "the unfitness of Norris and his clique is due to Mr. Mellon's opposition to their destructive ideas."

The SCHEENECTADY GAZETTE (Ind. Dem.) remarks: "We may not agree with some things the secretary has done, or has failed to do, but at least we can condemn attacks on him that are based on party technicalities. The TIMES (World) and concludes that 'the ideal secretary of the treasury, we take it, is secured by the process of stripping him down to the standard of the criminal law per se.'"

Calories? Huh! Maybe Meloncelar is not a moth. There are millions of people who will not admit that he is a hairy tale. Well, that being settled, Meloncelar ate what he found on his plate.

And never, as people do now, did he note the amount of the calories count.

He ate it because it was cheap. He wasn't disturbed as at dinner he was.

Destroying a roost, or a pie. To think it was lacking in granular fat.

Or a couple of vitamins shy. He cheerfully chewed every species of food.

Untroubled by worries or fears. Les, his health might be hurt by a fancy dessert.

LONDON, May 16.—Rumors that Princess Ingrid of Sweden may possibly be the bride of the Prince of Wales were revived here today by the visit of the beautiful 19 year old daughter of the Crown Prince of Sweden.

Princess Ingrid is visiting her grandfather the Duke of Connaught. She is one of the few eligible Protestant Princesses in Europe.

From a box the Swedish Princess today watched her grandfather review the Grenadier Guards parade. The Prince of Wales sat beside the Duke and frequently cast side glances at the fair young Princess from the north. Ingrid seemed to catch his eye nearly every time he looked and smiled amiably.

The Prince it is reported is constantly telling friends that he will not marry until he is 35. He will observe his 36th birthday on the 23rd of next month.

KELLEY DESCRIBES TRAGEDY SCENES IN CLEVELAND, O.

practically all operating purposes and patients were transferred from this building to the main hospital by a tunnel.

Tells Of Catastrophe

The word picture of the terrible catastrophe as given by Charles R. Kelley this morning follows:—

"As we drove in front of the Cleveland Clinic Hospital, Charles Augustine and I noticed something that appeared like smoke coming out of what appeared to be a doorway onto the roof of the building.

"It was brownish in color, perhaps a cinnamon color, appeared to be like a mist, yet heavier than fog. Charles insisted that it was a fire, while I thought it looked like a slip of a furnace.

"We had parked the ambulance, and due to the excitement that was becoming evident in the building, we went over to the side of the building adjacent to a vacant lot.

"By this time, this brownish mist began appearing from the cold air intake and people were seen rushing to windows. Spectators in the vicinity had secured a number of short ladders capable of reaching two stories but no higher, neither the firemen or police having arrived on the scene.

Rescue Work

"Charles and I were among those on the side adjacent to the vacant lot who manned the ladders. By placing the ladders on the iron rail at the top of the concrete wall, which was on the edge of a driveway that went down in the ground into the building, and the exertions and efforts of some strong able bodied negroes, who had the appearance of having been on an exciting job in the vicinity, kept the ladders on this iron railing, while many women and a number of men came down the ladder from the third floor to safety. A doctor directed the rescue of these people and was the last person to come down to safety. One woman of the lot was unconscious from the fumes, the others not being apparently much the worse of their experience. The ladders often bent almost double as many as three women came down them at one time. Charles and I assisted some six or seven of these women.

Explosion Occurs

"I believe that all the persons on the first floor must have been rescued before the real tragedy occurred, namely the second and deadly explosion. It was about 12:10 New Castle time when we arrived and we started with the others on the rescue work within a few minutes after that. It must have been twenty minutes later as the terrible explosion occurred.

"When the terrific explosion occurred, it was just as if a ton of dynamite had been exploded. The fire scattered to every part of the basement. The fumes, which had been carried to the various offices by the ventilating system from the previous explosion, found an outlet as the blast went up through the center of the building to the skylight, blowing out the glass of the skylight in every direction.

"A man standing near Charles

Augustine was struck by a falling piece of glass on his left arm and it was all but cut off. A piece of glass almost two feet square landed right beside me.

Rush From Building

"When this blast occurred, the rescuers and spectators who had gathered in a vacant lot on the side where we had been working rushed pell-mell from the building as the deadly fumes, apparently something like the deadly gases of the World War, shot out from the building. Their frantic efforts resulted in one woman being trampled unconscious.

"The doctor who had been directing the rescue of the people whom we assisted at the first said if there were any ambulances, to get them to the front of the building. This I did, being the first ambulance on the scene and taking the first patient, a woman, to the Mt. Sinai hospital, seven blocks away piloted by a police officer.

"On the side where we had been working at first, following the explosion there appeared numerous people at the windows on all floors above the first, seeking to get away from the terrible fumes. The firemen and police had now begun to arrive and assume charge of the situations. Ambulances were also arriving from every direction.

"For just a few seconds following the last terrific explosion, on the first and second floors, there appeared the flames of gas, which appeared to be terrific in heat and burning power.

Hangs To Building

"On the side we had been working there was a man at a fourth floor window, who had gotten out and was prepared to jump into a carvass held by many willing hands. He had been driven out by the fumes. He was hanging by his right arm grasped on the sill and his left leg dangling down the side of the building. When the blast relieved him of the fumes, he declined to jump calling out that he might break a leg and that he was all right as long as not bothered with the fumes and go ahead and rescue those who were in more danger. I don't know how long he hung in this manner but it was quite a length of time until he came down a fire department ladder himself.

"There were four nurses trapped on the fourth floor of this side. They were frightened and in agony from the fumes and seemed determined to jump when the firemen arrived. The firemen put up their aerial but it reached above them to the roof when let down and finally several firemen went up the ladder, tied a rope about one of their number and swung him from the ladder into the window, where he succeeded in holding the nurses until the ladder could be lowered to the window, which took several minutes.

Rescue Work

"On the same side above one of the main operating rooms, there appeared a considerable number of men and women on the roof above the operating room, there being a stairway to the roof at that point.

"Some person in the crowd tied a light line to a stone and cast it up to them. They caught it, a heavier rope was then pulled up by the lighter rope and fastened on the roof. The men then came down, one way and another, some of them having terribly burned arms from their contact with the rope.

"The women could not use the rope and they returned to the fourth floor, where a number were overcome and probably died before they were finally rescued by ladders.

All Kinds of Vehicles Used

"On bringing my ambulance around to the front of the building, I found groups of hospital and other doctors sorting out the persons rescued from the building, who were laid on the ground as they were brought out. They selected those who appeared to have life and the ambulances, trucks of all descriptions, taxicabs and all kinds of vehicles were soon racing to other hospitals in hope of saving life. We took some ten or twelve persons, mostly women to Mt. Sinai hospital. I think some of them were probably dead. I never witnessed a more horrible spectacle in my life.

"Every persons carried from the building was soaked in what appeared to be a sulphur steam, which colored them completely. This was that mist we saw coming from the building on our arrival. Bodies were scattered all over the lawn in front of the building. Bodies from surrounding porches were even used as stretchers.

Explosion In Basement

"In my opinion the explosion occurred in the basement among the thousands of X-ray films stored there. When the first explosion occurred, the fumes from these films, also the fire was carried throughout every part of the basement, in the ventilating system and also up into the offices. According to the doctor who attended Mr. Thomas Augustine, the resulting fumes were like those of the deadly gases of the World War. Any person who inhaled, any of it, and many could not avoid it, had little or no chance of living, he said. He told us that fourteen of the victims brought to him in the main hospital building died within ten minutes.

"When the second and greater explosion occurred, it was directly under the room where the other and ammonia and other gases were kept and these in turn exploded, adding to the horror of the terrible affair. While there was some resulting fire, I feel that it did less damage to the people in the building than the fumes and had there only been a fire, the toll would not have been so great.

"When the major explosion occurred evidently most of the people were on the mezzanine rest places on the various floors. The explosion cut off all exits by stairways or elevators and the only thing left was to inhale the fumes or get to windows. Opening of windows only brought the fumes to them.

"A majority of the patients had evidently been women and apparently the majority of these were in the course of being examined when the explosion occurred, as we saw as they were brought out, that they were for the most part in night dresses or in their under clothing. The remarkable feature of the affair was that I did not see one child victim brought out.

"Although Mr. Thomas Augustine was at least 75 yards away in another hospital building and generally speaking safe, yet many patients in the eighth floor of the main hospital building were overcome by the terrible fumes.

"I got a touch or two of the fumes while assisting and it was terrible, choking you instantly and making it almost impossible to breathe."

Put Blame For Crime In Paris On Foreigners

Recent Records Reveal That Most Of Crime Is Committed By Aliens

ALL NATIONALITIES FIGURE IN CASES

PARIS, May 16.—It is the foreigners who are responsible for a large majority of the crimes committed in Paris and the provinces, judging from recent records.

One of the most curious cases has been that of the young, Jewish Jew, Burger, who murdered his benefactor, named Goldberg, who took pity on the man and made a place for him in his office. The salary was not large but enabled him to live. Eight days later he told the director he wished to leave although there had been no difficulties between them.

Returns to kill. He left the office and four days afterward returned to kill Mr. Goldberg. His trial failed to bring out the motive of the crime and Burger refuses to reveal it although he has been sent up for seven years. Certain parties think it might have been because Goldberg made him take instructions from a typist who is a Christian.

At Marseilles an Armenian kindly offered to act as interpreter in a case involving seven of his fellow countrymen. They were so displeased with the judgment rendered by the court that when the case was over they all went out and beat up the interpreter, injuring him seriously.

Oil Swindle. In Paris an Italian stabbed his best friend and then attempted to commit suicide.

A Russian has been arrested at Levallois near Paris for swindling the Bell company out of $30,000 francs. He took delivery of motor oil for which he never paid.

Seventeen Hungarians have been given a total of eight months to two years in the case of forged Hungarian bonds.

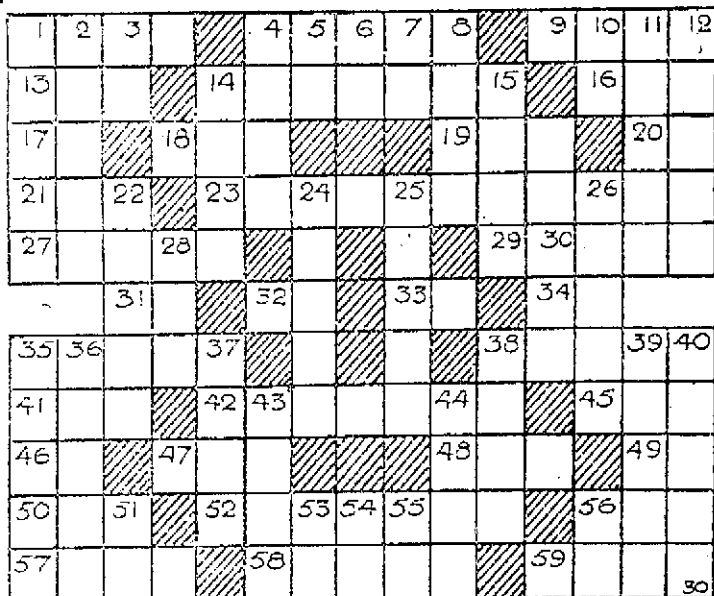

BODY OF OIL CITY MAN IS FOUND IN DETROIT RIVER

DETROIT, Mich., May 16.—Less than three hours after Charles Hendon of Oil City, Pa., told the police he had written him a letter notifying him he intended to drown himself, the harbor master's crew had dragged Detroit river, recovered the body and taken it to the morgue where Charles identified it.

Fred Menlon, 30 years old came to Detroit from Oil City April 26. His brother said May 11 he wrote that his body would be found at the foot of Twelfth street. He sent all his clothing and personal effects to Oil City along with the letter. The brother started for Detroit at once. He took charge of the body and will take it back to Oil City.

Dependancy as Fred intimated in his letter is given as the motive for the suicide.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

J. B. Caldwell, M.D.
AT AGE 83

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their systems. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, burdens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person.

Get a bottle today, at any drugstore and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

WALKING AGAIN WITHOUT PAIN; LAUDS KONJOLA

Rheumatism And Neuritis Held Undisputed Sway Until New Medicine Was Put To Test

MRS. MARGARET J. REAGAN

"Konjola relieved me of rheumatism and neuritis, and restored my health," said Mrs. Margaret J. Reagan, of St. Joseph's Rectory, Norristown. "I am seventy-two years old, and for years I endured constant pain from these two dreadful afflictions. My joints were stiff and sore and my knees were swollen to twice their normal size. I was constipated, and my system was filled with poisons. The strongest laxatives gave me only temporary relief."

Improvement began with the very first bottle of Konjola. Constipation was promptly relieved, and as the impurities were swept from my system, my health improved. In four weeks all my old pains were gone, and I looked different to my friends. I shall never lose an opportunity to praise Konjola.

Konjola is sold in New Castle at McKeen's drug store, and by all leading druggists throughout this entire section.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Tommy Gosling hadn't said a word—he had just listened with all his ears to the tale of Brave-Heart and Voice-in-the-Night. Now suddenly the little Gosling spoke.

"I don't believe there ever was any Brave-Heart or that he ever went hunting with Voice-in-the-Night. How could any bird who has such short legs as you, go seeking for game in the Big Woods. Now if you had said your great, great, great grandfather had gone fishing with the Redskin chief I might have put some stock in your story. You made that tale up yourself, Loon, now didn't you?"

Father Gander and Mother Wild Goose were shocked.

"For shame, Tommy Gosling!" cried they. "How horrid of you to tell Loon that he isn't speaking the truth after he has told you such a splendid story. Suppose you don't quite believe it! Can't you keep any of your thoughts to yourself? You are a rude little goose."

Tommy Gosling hung his head, very much ashamed of his bad manners. But Loon, far from being angry, appeared to be much amused at what the youngster had said. He gave another of his crazy laughs.

"Now you let that young son of yours alone, friend Gosling," said he. "He is all right, the cleverest youngster I have met in a long while. Then Loon turned to Tommy Gosling.

"Come now, little fellow, look up. You have nothing to be ashamed of. You were right. I have never believed that tale myself. But it was one I heard when I was a kid, and like all the other young Loons I thought it was true until I grew old enough to think for myself. Whether there ever was a Brave-Heart or not, it is sort of fun to think there might have been, and certainly when a Loon gives his call it sends a little shiver up and down one's spine to think there might have been a lonely Voice-in-the-Night waiting for his master."

"I think it is a lovely fairy tale," declared the boy at this point. "What difference does it make whether it all ever really happened or not? It is an interesting story and that is all that counts. Besides it gives us something to think about."

"Exactly what I think," agreed Loon. Then he looked down at his feet.

"Tommy Gosling was right; about another thing," croaked Loon, a little sadly.

Next: "Make-Believe Legs."

Rabbi Menkes To Discuss Attack Made On Einstein

Prof. Albert Einstein recently celebrated his fiftieth birthday; the whole civilized world paid their homage to this great scientist at this occasion. However Cardinal O'Donnell of Boston attacked Einstein on the ground that his theories lead to atheism.

In a statement issued upon the request of the American Rabbinate Einstein denied the charge and declared his firm belief in a Supreme Power. Why was the attack unwarranted? How should we think of God? These questions will be discussed by Rabbi Menkes at Temple Israel tomorrow night at the Regular Friday evening services at 8:00 o'clock.

The pulpit flowers will be furnished by Mrs. M. Hershkowitz in loving memory of her mother Mrs. Rosa Gross.

After the services there will be a social hour with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gerson acting as hosts.

Saturday morning services at 10:30 a. m.

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
Of New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15. — Ralph C. Stiefel of Ellwood City has been awarded a patent on a method of forming blanks for making seamless tubes, the United States patent office announces.

Stiefel filed application for the patent rights of his novel method with the patent office November 8, 1927, and was granted the patent May 14. He has not as yet assigned his patented rights.

Asserts Bromine Gas Fumes Cause Deadly Results

Philadelphia Medical Man Says
Cleveland Tragedy Caused By Films Burning

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—Bromine gas, the deadly poison fumes used by the Germans during the World war, is the cause of the deaths in the Cleveland Clinic, Dr. Charles H. Lawall, dean of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, declared today.

The accounts show that fire apparently developed in the X-Ray room and this caused an explosion of oxygen stored in tanks nearby in Dr. Lawall's opinion. "X-Ray films do not explode. They burn quickly," he said.

"Oxygen tanks, however, are very explosive. When subjected to heat they will tear loose and play havoc. Blasts from the tanks naturally would drive before them bromine gas released by the burning X-Ray films. The films are coated with silver bromide and the burning of the films releases this bromine turning it into gas."

Philadelphia physicians declare there is no danger of a similar tragedy here due to the methods used in storing X-Ray films. Steel fire-proof vaults and cabinets are used in storing the films in local hospitals, but steps were taken today to prevent any possible chances of explosions and fires.

Trade Commission Hears Of Offer By Insull Interests

Boston Publisher Approached By Insull Representative With Twenty Million Offer

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 15.—Probing deeper into the so-called Power Trust's buying into control of various newspapers, the Federal Trade Commission heard today that an offer of $20,000,000 was made for the Boston Post by interests purporting to be representing Samuel Insull, the Midwest Power and Utility magnate.

The offer was disclosed to the commission by Richard Grozier, publisher and owner of the Post. Grozier said Charles O'Malley, a Boston advertising man, came to him with the offer.

The publisher read into the record a report made to him by his managing editor, C. C. Carberry, which stated that O'Malley claimed to represent the "Insull interest" and that he also claimed these same interests had purchased the Indianapolis "News" and were negotiating for "fifty or sixty" more newspaper properties.

The editor expressed the opinion to his publisher that the O'Malley offer was "nine-tenths bluff."

A clear skin is irresistible

...in fact, popularity depends upon it

THAT priceless treasure—a clear, flawless, lovely skin—charms, with admiration, the hearts of men.

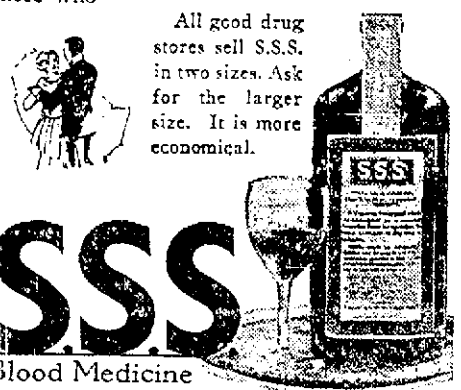

First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered. You, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

Many thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking S.S.S. It is Nature's own blood tonic for raising the body's power of resistance to disease, improving the appetite, building firm flesh, and clearing the skin. S.S.S. promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building). It increases the number of red-blood-cells.

The way to the skin is through the blood. Strong, healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

New Process Of Making Flour

Age-Old Art Of Baking Has Been Revised By Science

Science has revised the age-old art of baking. White bread, long criticized by doctors and dieticians as lacking in the nutritious value of brown bread, has been saved from an ignominious fate at the hands of these scientists and made by two other scientists, the staff of life. Not romantically the staff of life, but scientifically so.

As the result of their remarkable discovery which eliminates the chemical bleaching of flour, that destroyed a large percentage of the protein content and food value, two young research bakers in the great research laboratories of the W. G. Long company in Chicago will become nationally famous.

Louis W. Haas, co-discoverer of the new process, is a graduate and former instructor of Heidelberg university in Germany, from which many great scientists have come. He is regarded as one of the leading baking scientists of the country today. During the years of research leading up to the discovery, Ralph M. Bohn, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, has worked with him.

For years Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, father of the pure food laws, and Dr. Royal S. Copeland, national food authority, have pointed out that bread made with bleached flour is not as good as bread made with flour unchanged by artificial treatment. The chemical action during the bleaching process not only destroyed important food elements, but made the eating of the resulting white flour a gamble to its manufacturers. Vast losses resulted both to the makers of the flour, and the bakers and housewives of the country who were forced to use flour of an unstable quality.

With the advent of the process discovered by Mr. Haas and Mr. Bohn, the gamble is removed, and baking, long a mysterious art, becomes an exact science. The bread, by scientific test, remains fresh longer, has a thinner, finer crust and has the fluffy texture of angel-food cake.

Scientists from all over the country are congratulating Mr. Haas and Mr. Bohn. Dr. H. E. Barnard, past president of the American Institute of Baking, former health commissioner of Indiana and present president of the Honey Institute of America, says of the new process: "I consider this new method a great forward step in the history of baking. The natural flavor of this new bread, like the natural tang of honey, should inspire people to enjoy more of the food that is best for them because it tastes so good."

WILD PITCH BRINGS BAN ON BASEBALL
LEBANON, Pa., May 16—Baseball was recently banned from the grounds of the junior high school here after Evelyn Koester was struck on the nose by a wild pitch from a too-enthusiastic youngster. Following on the heels of other youthful accidents, in which teeth were reported knocked out, eyes blackened and sundry bumps and bruises received in the sport, school officials announced there would be no more ball-playing on the grounds.

GARDNER

Rev. J. R. Routledge, pastor of the Providence Baptist church, above North Sewickley, will preach next Sunday, at Gardner chapel, at 2:30 P. M.

E. O. Alexander, of Pittsburgh, spent last Saturday with his folks at Gardner.

Mrs. Mary Miller of Basil, Ohio, is spending the week with her relatives at the Comstock home at Gardner.

Mrs. Jeanette Stanton, of Youngstown, took her relatives, Mrs. Croup, of Princeton, Mrs. Robb, of Gardner, and Mrs. Stevenson of Butler, all out to Farmdale, O., to see their father, Mr. McCamey, who has been ailing for some time. The ladies came home on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Earl, and son Billie, of Maryland avenue moved to Gardner last Saturday, to their new house which they have just built.

Attorney C. W. Fenton, and his sister, Mrs. Lewis, motored to McKees Rocks, last Sunday to see their brother, D. C. Fenton, who has been very ill and is not improving as was hoped some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Robison, and children of Gardner went to the home of Mr. Robison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Robison, near Portersville to celebrate Mother's Day. Mrs. Robison, Sr., has been confined to an invalid's chair for many months on account of an accident to her ankle.

Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Knight, and two children, were also at the Robison home on Sunday.

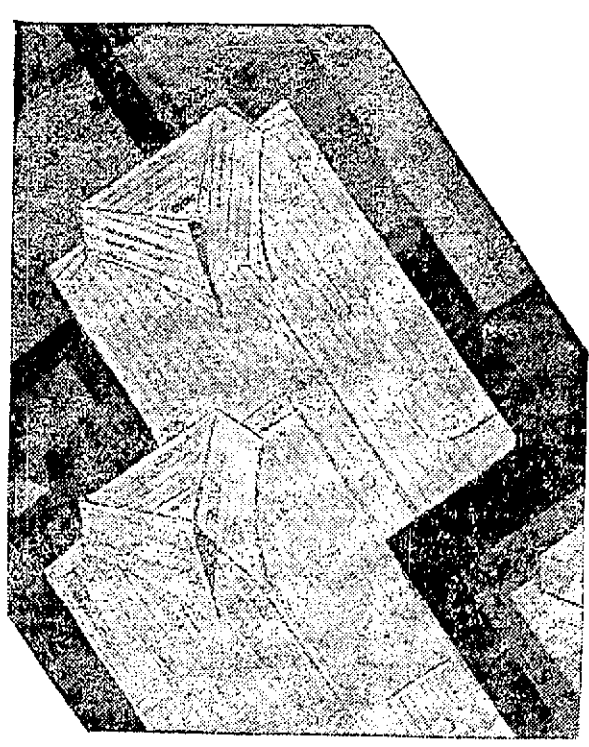

A. H. Robb of Gardner, went to Butler last Sunday on account of the death of a relative, Wilbur Oserling, a brilliant young man of seventeen. His death followed an operation for appendicitis.

Philip Moore, of Gardner is well known to be an expert carpenter, and Gardner may well be proud of Mr. Moore's latest achievement, a very handsome house of eight rooms. The house was built for the Martin family but as the Martins have not arrived yet a pair of blue birds have taken possession of one room. This house will be a haven for many and many a pair of feathered songsters and will bring many birds to our village for which every one will rejoice.

NEW SHIRT SWANKNESS FOR SUCCESSFUL MEN

From out of the masses there always towers a chosen few, who stand head and shoulders above the rest--and these shirts were intended for those shoulders. No, no, no... not because these shirts are not within the price reach of all (for they are but $3.00) but because successful men's eyes, trained to the value of detail, will be quickest to realize the outstanding beauty of of these new conservative swank shirts. These shirts are "EAGLE" made--that tells all there is to tell about quality workmanship and they are made from soft cool Madras--that tells all there is to tell about the desirability of the shirting material. For no other material will remain fresh and free from pin wrinkles on a sultry warm day like Madras will. The colorings of these shirts are subdued to a faintness of tone, a tone that is even fainter than pastel shading--and the strippings and patterns are tiny, very tiny. And Since it is the little things in life and dress that matter most let us not overlook TIES, too.

Won't you come in and let us show you these new Tweed Silk Ties. They will harmonize so well and yet add the desired dash of color to your general attire. We would like too very much. Priced at $1.50. We're certain you won't find another store in New Castle, not even one, that can show you shirts like these nor ties like these either.

The First Baptist church in New Castle gave the skin and the lecture of the course on Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, on Tuesday night, at Gardner chapel. Every one is grateful to Mr. Landis for these free lectures, which hold so much of interest and instruction, and the pictures on the screen will never be forgotten.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shaffer, Jr. of New Castle took their children to Gardner, to celebrate Mother's Day, and the young men of the family who are working at Ambridge also came home to see their parents Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shaffer Sr. that day.

Rev. W. E. Minter, pastor of the United Presbyterian church in Ellwood City, gave an excellent address, on Mother's Day, at the East New Castle Mission. Mrs. Minter was with her husband, and Mrs. Lloyd Randolph, who is the soprano at their church, sang several beautiful selections. The attendance at the Mission is increasing and the interest is encouraging. Rev. P. M. Wagner will preach next Sunday night.

Mrs. Lucille Showers of Pittsburgh came to see her mother Mrs. Huey, who has spent several months with her daughter Mrs. James Maxwell of the old Pittsburgh road, and Mrs. Showers took her niece Lucille Maxwell with her to visit friends at Williamsport, Pa. Mrs. Huey is still improving after being ill for many months.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson and children of New Castle spent Sunday afternoon at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thompson of Gardner. Miss Emma Cahill of New Galilee was an overnight guest at the Thompson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Benson, of Meyer avenue, in New Castle entertained the former's parents and family, in honor of Mother's Day. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson, daughter Miss Selma, son Carl, and Miss Julia Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Norris, of Gardner and their daughter, Mrs. Fred Wolford, of New Castle, who were injured in a recent automobile accident, are all improved, though still confined to their home. A sister of Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Eli Barnhart of Ambridge is at the Norris home assisting the members of the family to care for the injured.

The East New Castle Grange, has been meeting for some time at the homes of the members and met last Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanna of East New Castle, but will meet hereafter at the Grange hall.

This evening Mrs. Lytle will entertain her class of ten girls, from the East New Castle Mission, at her home.

The ladies of the M. E. church at West Pittsburgh where Rev. Claude Downum is pastor went to the Savannah church, Mr. Downum's other charge, and put on a program, last Sunday night. The ladies of the Savannah church held an all day meeting at the church today. A number went yesterday to the funeral of Mrs. Clara Houk.

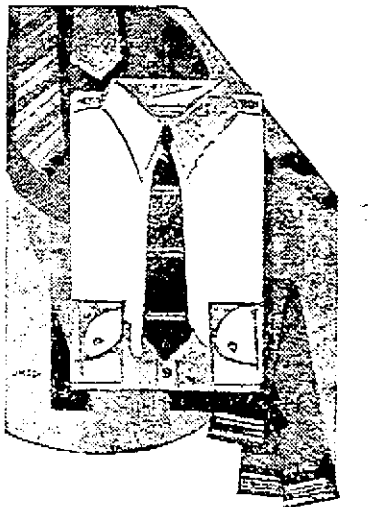

The family of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Reed of the old Pittsburgh road, always go to see their parents on Mother's Day, so they can go to church with their mother. A quick way to check dandruff

—use it full strength

Youngsters usually get dandruff at school; promiscuous use of combs, towels, etc., brings it on. At the first sign of it, go after it with Listerine, the safe antiseptic. You simply douse it on full strength and massage the scalp vigorously.

Keep the treatment up systematically. Unless the case is a very serious one, requiring the attention of a physician, you will note improvement.

Dandruff, which is caused by germs, yields to Listerine because Listerine is active against germs. Kills even the stubborn Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in 15 seconds. We are always ready to submit clinical proof of this statement.

Throng Prepares To Enjoy Picnic Season At Park

Local Recreation Center To Be Formally Opened Saturday

SECURE SEVERAL NEW AMUSEMENTS

Cascade Park, New Castle, opens for the season next Saturday. From then on through the summer and beautiful recreation resort will be the mecca of thousands of people from all parts of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. Its eighty acres of natural beauty offering unexcelled picnic facilities and diversions of the most delightful kind.

Forces of workmen have been busy for weeks preparing for the opening day, so that Cascade will present a most attractive appearance to the thousands who will be there to celebrate the inauguration of the 1929 outdoor season. All the rides, all the midway attractions, all the picnic facilities are ready to receive them.

And added to the standard amusements, with which Cascade is replete, will be new attractions that are bound to please. Chief of these is a new ride—the Automobile Racer—a novel idea in a fast and fascinating thriller, which is bound to prove popular with grown-ups and youngsters alike.

Dancers in particular will find Cascade a source of delight this season. Manager Carl L. Shaner has secured for their pleasure one of the outstanding recording orchestras of the country, Cliff Perrine's own orchestra from Chicago. This body of musicians is well known throughout the United States, and is just closing its return engagement at the Graystone Hotel, Dayton, to open for the season at Cascade.

Despite the heavy storms of the last few weeks the parking ground will be found in fine condition for the accommodation of motor parties. One of the outstanding features of Cascade Park is its provision for the amusement and care of the "kiddies." The youngsters own park-within-the-park and the Kiddies' Midway supply diversion of the best kind.

Miss Grace McCabe will again be in charge of the kiddies' park and the Red Cross Cabin, which has made a hit season after season with park patrons.

It may be a bit early to think about swimming, but Billy Glenn has his triple bathing pools, with accommodations for 8,000 bathers, all ready for the opening and when visions of the "Old Swimming Hole" arise in the mental picture of the "good old days" the urge to swim may be satisfied at Cascade as nowhere else in this part of the country.

Presenting as it does all the amusement features of a high class park, Cascade has the further advantage of unexcelled accommodations for picnics, large and small. Many already have been scheduled for the season just opening.

Another outstanding feature of Cascade is the broadcasting every afternoon and evening of music throughout the park. Bathing, boating parties on Crystal Lake, picnickers and strollers along the midway all hear the latest and best of concert and popular music.

PEPSIN WINS! BEST FOR INDIGESTION

Thousands With Poor, Weak Stomachs Now Taking It In New Liquid Form.

PHARMACISTS PRAISE IT

Stops Acute Kind In Few Minutes
—Stubborn Kind In 3 Weeks
—What A Blessing

Here's a delightful elixir with plenty of real Pepsin, some Menthol and just enough of several other stomach correctives to make it capable of putting almost any weak, rundown, abused stomach in first class shape in three weeks—and it tastes like the most palatable nectar.

The men who created this supremely good formula know their business—they don't believe in nasty tasting medicine and the people are with them for Dore's Mentha Pepsin—that's the name—is having such a tremendous sale all over the country that many druggists are astounded.

And the laboratory that turns out this highly successful reliever of stomach agony must be run by fair minded men for they have passed along the word in every druggist in the country that if Dore's Mentha Pepsin doesn't bring serene comfort to any worn out, run down, sickly, gassy stomach that the owner of that most important, internal organ can have his or her money back.

Stubborn indigestion of years standing is hard to get rid of, but Dore's Mentha Pepsin is the discovery that will do it! One enthusiastic druggist asserts: "You can get it at any real drug store in America and thousands are taking advantage of the generous guarantee every day. Becker's of New Castle, Inc., McKee's Kwik Rate Store, Love & McGowan always has a big supply on hand."

You can eat anything you want any time you want it if you've got a bottle of Dore's Mentha Pepsin handy—it's real pepsin in liquid form—the right way to take pepsin.

INTENDED TO HELP KEEP ONE WELL

World's Tonic Created To Enable People To Hold Health.

Keeping well is the most serious business people have to attend to. With health they can do most everything; without they are handicapped. Exposed to changing temperatures, to fogs and dampness, to one of the hardest strains the body must undergo, and one that we are subject to many times over. Moreover, we are inclined to neglect Nature's distress signals when the body needs help. We say, "Oh, it is only a little cold," and we go on for weeks while the body is making a most strenuous effort to overcome this "little cold." Often we permit these conditions to seize hold of the body. First nose, then throat, then stomach, then kidneys and bowels—it is an old story to the observant.

Yet many of us go on unheeding the frantic signals our bodies are making for help until we have undermined our health. Then we try to treat the symptoms only. We take this remedy for indigestion, or that one for constipation, never thinking that the trouble has spread through our body, and that the only way we can overcome it is by a constitutional treatment that will restore the balance to all the organs. Give the body good rich blood and it will overcome most anything. Clog that blood with the by-products of catarrh in the lungs, head and digestive tract, and one will not get well.

It was a study of these very conditions that led to the creation of World's Tonic. Long research showed that our people are rapidly becoming victims of this catarrhal condition, and that few received the right kind of treatment. World's Tonic was intended to help meet this very need. We have only to look over your own community to see how well it has succeeded. "Thousands of testimonials as to its value are being published from people in this and adjoining states. If you want to keep well, or to free yourself from any of the above mentioned conditions, a bottle of this good medicine will prove its own value. You can obtain it from Becker's Kwik Rate Store, Becker's of New Castle, Inc., Paisley's, Eckert's or any other first class drug store. (A-39)

SPECIAL CONGRESS WILL TAKE RECESS

New Congress, Summoned By President Hoover Plans For Recess About
June 1

Recess, Unprecedented In Annals Of Special Sessions Occasioned By Tariff Delay

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The new congress, called into special session by President Hoover to solve the farm and tariff problems, will take a lengthy recess about June 1 under plans tentatively adopted today by administration leaders.

The recess, almost unprecedented in the history of special sessions, will be caused by delay in preparing the new tariff bill for the senate's consideration. Due to pass the house by May 27, the tariff bill will be sent direct to the senate finance committee, which proposes to hold hearings lasting four to five weeks.

The senate will recess until after July 4th, according to present plans. The house will get a two-month's vacation. This program has met favor with leaders on both sides and at both ends of the capitol, so it undoubtedly will be followed.

Wars Continued.

The legislative wars meanwhile continued today in both house and senate. The house debated the tariff bill while the new census and reapportionment bill occupied the senate. It involved little contest over the census provisions but a real fight from southern senator against the provision, reappointing the house.

Eleven states will gain members in the house while 17 will lose representation if the bill is enacted.

Controversy Raised

The provision raising the greatest controversy was one calling for automatic reapportionment in the future should the Congress fail to readjust the House membership following any census. This provision would authorize the President to appoint the seats of the House on the basis of a census and file his reapportionment with the Congress. If the Congress then failed to act at once, the President's reapportionment would go into effect four years later.

The bills, incidentally, would provide for a national census every 10 years on population, agriculture, irrigation, drainage, unemployment and mines. In 1934 and every 10 years afterward, a separate census of farms, crops, acreage and livestock would be authorized. The measure carried numerous penalties for failure to answer questions propounded by census takers.

Administration leaders hope to enact the bill in the Senate early next week. The southern opponents have announced they would not filibuster against it, so a prolonged battle is not expected. Then the measure must go to the House, which probably will pass it in a few days.

House Will Not Give Debenture Plan Approval

Civil War Exists Between House And Senate Over Export Debenture Plan

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 15.—The farm relief controversy today developed into a civil war between Senate and House, with leaders of the House proposing to administer a stinging rebuke to the Senate for alleged infringements upon its constitutional right by writing the export debenture scheme into the $500,000,000 cooperative marketing bill.

With all Republican leaders of the House assailing the Senate's export debenture amendment, on the ground that it would appropriate tariff revenues and therefore could originate only in the House, they had only to decide upon a course of action.

Backers of the Hoover program advocated the softening of the blow by adopting a rule sending the farm bill to a conference with a declaration that the Senate had exceeded its constitutional powers. The other course was to summarily reject the bill on this ground.

Speaker Longworth called the House Steering Committee and the leading spokesmen for the administration farm relief program into session to decide the question.

Vetoes Death Penalty Bill

(International News Service)
LANSING, Mich., May 15.—One minute after it was placed on his desk today, Governor Fred W. Green vetoed the death penalty bill. "Regardless of the merits of the controversy on capital punishment," the governor said in his veto message, "it was one of the most extreme and inflexible measures of its kind that has ever been proposed."

The bill, the first to successfully pass both houses of the Michigan state legislature since 1895, required without exception that the death penalty be inflicted on every person convicted of first degree murder, regardless of age, sex or circumstances.

Must Have Licenses To Sell Milk Here

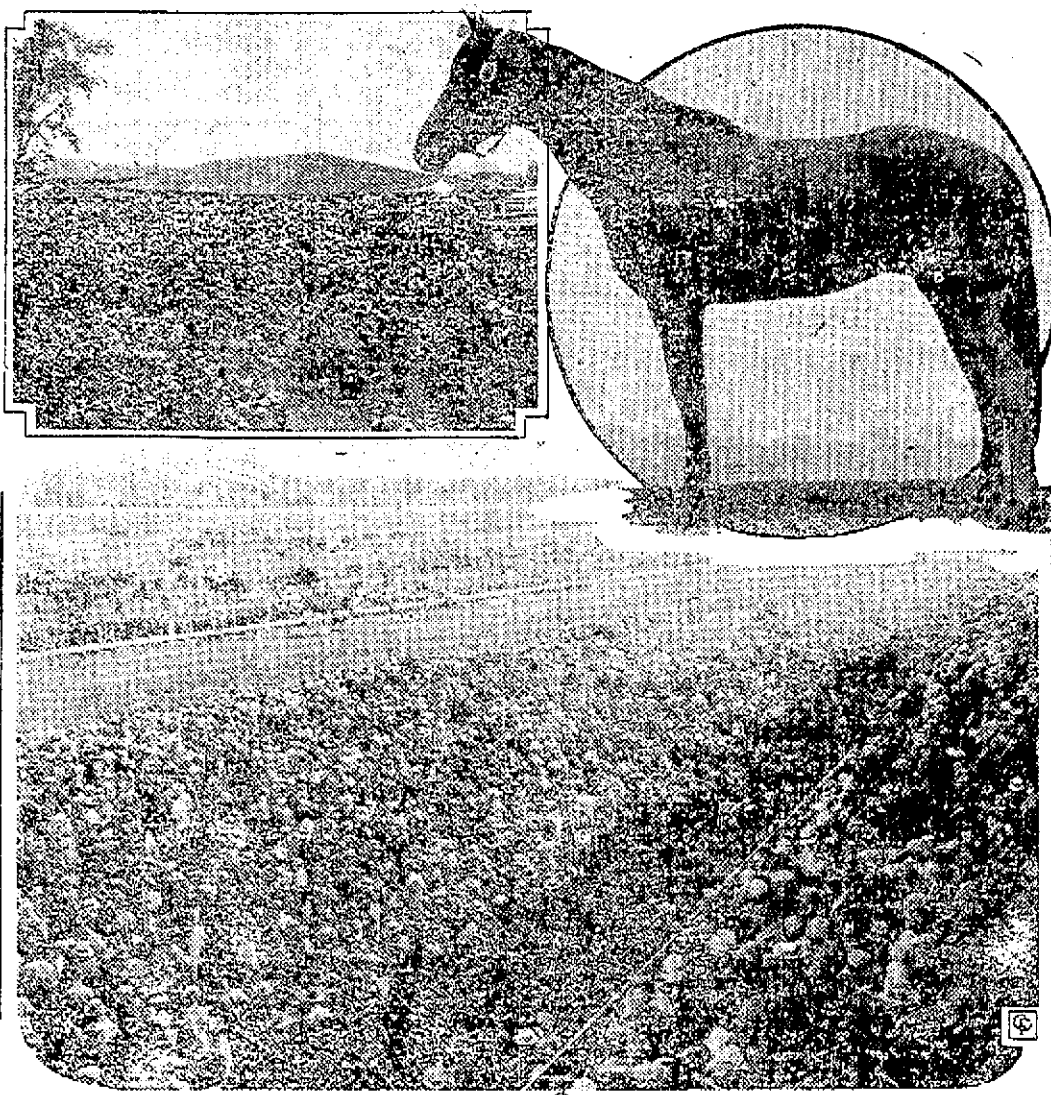

Dr. W. L. Stoen, city health officer and D. O. Davies, city councilman in charge of the health and safety affairs of the city are determined that milk sold here is produced under sanitary conditions, also delivered in the same manner and no person who cannot meet with their requirements will be permitted to sell here and the licenses of those caught selling it under adverse conditions will have their licenses cancelled.

The sanitary officers are under instructions to see to this and Officer L. S. Moon yesterday ordered in before the mayor Mike Macchelli of the seventh ward, whose license had been revoked because of unsanitary conditions, but who persisted in selling just the same. Mike has three cows. Sentence was suspended this time because of the fact that Macchelli has a large family, but he was warned that he would receive the full extent of the law, if caught selling milk again.

Of Strike Trouble

(International News Service)
ELIZABETHTOWN, Tenn., May 15.—With this city minus a water supply today after bombing last night of the reservoir which also furnished water to the textile plants where a strike is in progress, Sheriff J. M. Moreland has appealed to Attorney General W. C. Boyd to declare martial law here. The sheriff declared the situation was beyond his control.

Clashes between strikers and workers who have returned to the mills continued today, and before noon 100 arrests had been made. In one clash alleged pickets staged with officers three strikers were injured. Tear gas bombs were used to disperse the mob.

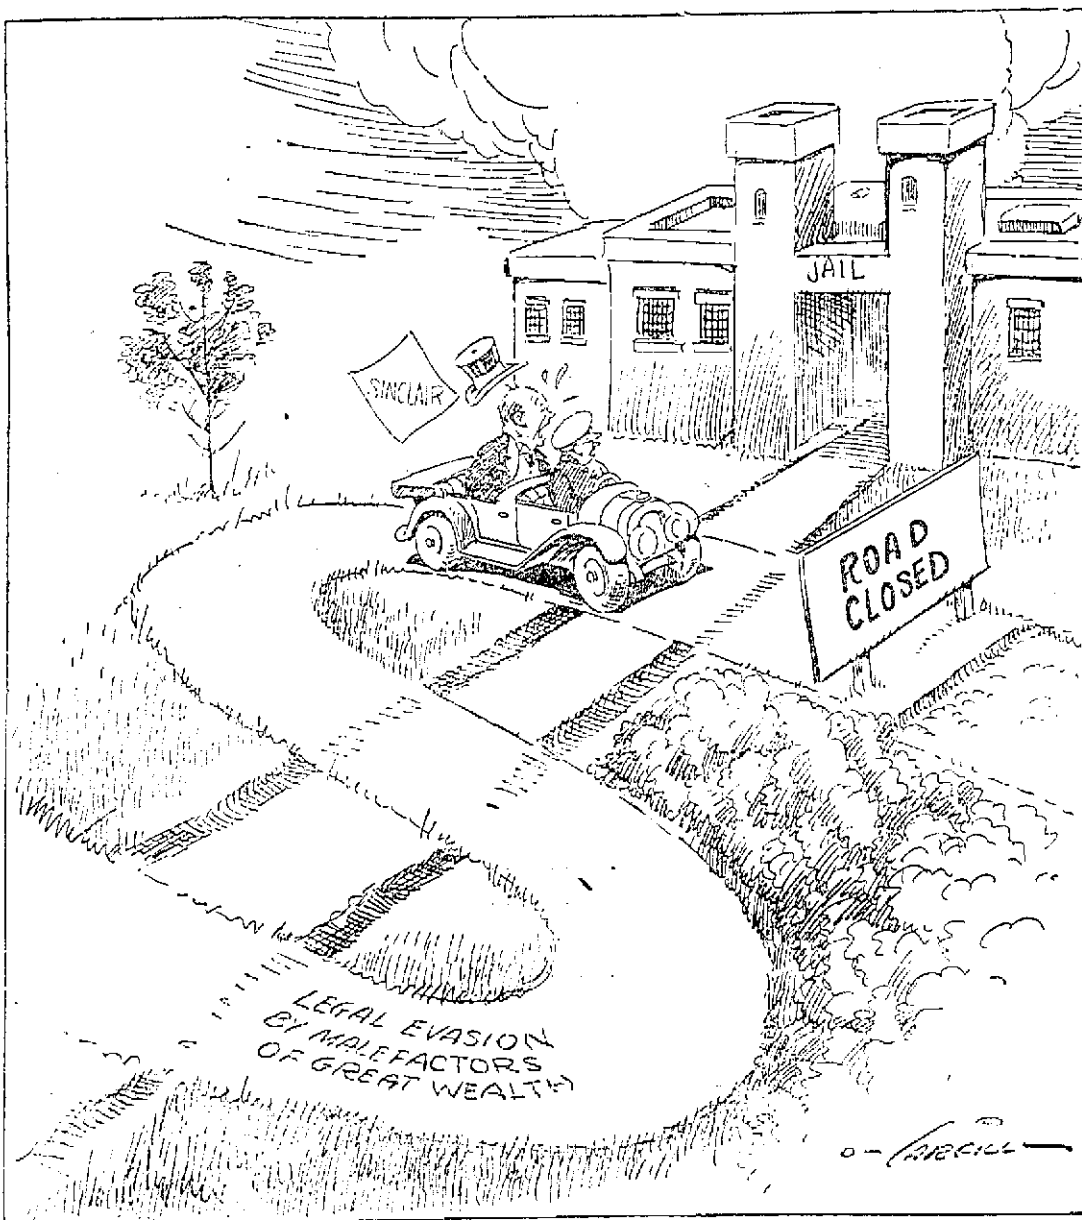

Conditions today will determine if the city is to be placed in command of soldiers, the attorney general said. Meanwhile E. L. McGrady of the American Federation of Labor was en route to Washington to ask President Hoover to intervene in the labor dispute.

Thomas A. Connelly Is Highly Honored

Given Student And Other Honors That Are Out Of The Ordinary

Thomas A. Connelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Connelly of 214 Park avenue, a graduate of New Castle High school, and at present a Junior at Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh, has been accorded unusual honors for his senior year both by the student body and by the school management in recognition of his wonderful work since becoming a student in that institution.

First among these honors is that of being elected treasurer of the Carnegie Tech Student Council, which means that he will handle all monies of the many student activities of that big institution.

Then he has been recommended for membership in the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a honorary fraternity of national scope for those of recognized musical ability and who have maintained better than eighty-five per cent in their grades while in college.

And last and by no means the least, he has been elected as student director of the Carnegie Tech Kilby Band, known from one end of the country to the other, as the best band of its kind in America. Present indications are that this band will make the trip to Southern California next fall with the Carnegie Tech team, when it goes to California to play the University of Southern California. Mr. Connelly has been a member of the Kilby Band since first entering the institution.

In addition to those activities for which he has been honored, he is also active in athletic lines, his special line of endeavor in that line being tennis and basketball. He is also a baseball player of some ability. He was graduated from New Castle High school in 1925. While in the local institution, he was recognized as a musician of ability, was also good in his studies at all times and was quite active in sports, including tennis, basketball and even football.

All Is Ready For Carnival Event

New Castle Field Club To Be Opened For Season This Evening

Now that Lew Dockstader is dead, his advertising phrase "beyond compare" can be safely plagiarized for the carnival at the New Castle Field club tonight.

Nothing like it was ever seen before in the field club. Nothing like it will be seen there for a long time again. The chandeliers won't stand the strain. Trying to write an advance notice about it is like trying to define the fourth dimension, nobody knows much about it. Dr. E. M. Parlett has all the facts locked up in his stethoscope and he hasn't had time to be interviewed this week. The result is that the carnival will open cold, so to speak.

In addition to the committees named some time ago, the following have been added to the list of stars, comets and constellations of the indoor tracas. Miss Evelyn Pearson, Miss Dorothy Seavy, Stewart Housen, Roy Shira, Dr. W. W. Horner, Robert Long, George S. Long, W. M. Nunn, J. P. Toler.

The midway attractions got in last night after a long run at the Allegheny county work house and the barkers are already oiling their throat muscles.

The evening opens with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock, and about 9 o'clock the party starts.

REV. SCRIPTURE AT ALLIANCE TABERNACLE

Mrs. Scripture, wife of Rev. Scripture will be in charge of the services at Hoover Heights. Rev. Scripture will speak in the People's Mission, Sampson street, Friday evening.

Seven Volunteer In Appeal From Local Hospital

People are always willing to aid in time of trouble it seems. Following the statement in The New Castle News on Wednesday that the Shenango Valley hospital wanted volunteers for a blood transfusion, seven people called and offered themselves.

The first candidate who volunteered, S. G. Havrilla, a senior in Westminster College was found to be acceptable and the transfusion was held late Wednesday evening.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Keep Chicks Warm—Separating cockerels from the pullets at an early age usually makes it possible for the pullets to develop more rapidly. If the males are removed before they are old enough to do without heat some arrangement should be made to keep them warm and to prevent crowding after they are moved. Many cases of losses have been reported where cockerels were allowed to crowd after moving.

Raise Good Heifers—Cows are valuable.

Painful Corns

GO IN 3 SECONDS
They Dry Up, Lift Right Off
10D-ISE. "The India Corn remover" takes all soreness out and ends painful corns and callouses in 3 seconds. Corns and callouses dry up, then you lift them right off with your finger nail, and all pain and soreness can do it easily. Will not irritate most sensitive skin, no cutting necessary. Get a 25 cent bottle of 10D-ISE at your druggist today! Follow the simple directions and in a few seconds you can make walking a pleasure. Guaranteed or money back.

able or worthless as milk producers according to their blood inheritance, say State College dairy specialists. Do not waste time raising heifer calves unless they are from good high-producing cows and from a sire who also had a high-producing cow for his dam.

Thin Young Carrots—Carrot seed is small and almost always sown too thickly. Thin to three inches apart while the plants are very small or the plants will become spindly and unable to stand alone. Chantenay is a good variety.

Prepare Plants for Outdoors—Young flower plants started indoors should not be moved suddenly to outdoor locations. They should be given a gradual adjusting process before setting out.

Destroy New Weeds—Do not wait to see if a new weed will be a bad one before destroying it. Endless trouble and annoyance later may be avoided by promptly killing weeds in new infestations.

Feed Starving Bees—Feed sugar syrup to bees that are short of food. Help the bees to build up strong colonies before the clover honey flow.

Control Berry Disease—Anthracnose of raspberries can be controlled by spraying the bushes with lime-sulphur four times during the growing season.

CIRCULATION LARGE

AT LIBRARY BRANCHES

Circulation at the branch libraries of this city during the month of April totaled 6,944, it is announced.

Of this number the South Side led the others with 4,222 and the seventh ward branch totaled 2,507. The circulation at the hospital branch was 155.

Washington Band Making Progress

George Washington junior high school has a new musical organization just started this year, namely: the band. Under the leadership of John E. Paton, director of instrumental music in the senior and junior high schools of the city, the group has made progress and is steadily increasing in size.

Having finished working through two band books of the simpler kind they are now using two new books of considerable difficulty.

The band has played for an operaetta, a basketball game and several chapels. At a recent chapel the individual playing of the members was demonstrated in the performance of a clarinet, cornet, a saxophone, a trio for trombone and a cornet duet.

On several sunny days the residents of Sheridan avenue have been regaled with strains of martial music as the band practiced marching maneuvers on the newly paved street.

Next year the band will be entered in the band contest to be held here, and hopes to make a very commendable showing.

MICHIGAN MAN LOSES

LEG BUT DOESN'T WORRY

(International News Service)
TOWNA, Mich., May 16.—A little thing like having a leg cut off is not enough to greatly worry Foster Baker, 35, an Ionia mail truck driver. Fifteen minutes after he had been run over and his leg amputated when he attempted to crank his car while it was in gear, Foster was able to go to his home nursing skin abrasions rather than his amputated leg. The leg was artificial.

Flowers Ordered For Morrow

Marked "Rush"

(International News Service)
Copyright, 1929, International News Service
STROUDSBURG, Pa., May 16.—Indications that the wedding of Miss Anne Morrow and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh may take place at the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J., possibly within a few days, were seen here today when International News Service learned that the Labor nursery of this city have already shipped six or seven carloads of flowers and plants to Englewood, N. J. The shipment, which includes five truckloads of hemlocks, evergreens, Rhododendrons and laurel, has been dispatched to R. Maxwell Ingham, the Englewood landscape artist, at the Morrow estate.

It was also learned by International News Service that another large shipment of flowers and shrubbery has been ordered sent to the Morrow home in Englewood from a nursery in West Virginia.

The belief that the wedding may take place within the next few days is predicted on the fact that the orders for the flowers are all labeled "rush."

LADY SAYS IT ENDED YEARS OF SUFFERING

Ten Herbs Relieved Stomach Trouble, Nervousness And Other Ailments.

What a splendid thing it would be if all men and women of this section who are suffering from stomach, liver, kidney or bowel trouble, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, or a weak, run-down condition, could know what blessed relief Ten Herbs has given local sufferers who had similar health troubles. For instance, take the experience of Mrs. Ruth Eddinger, 618 Virginia Avenue, Butler, Pa., as related recently to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this famous new natural medicine.

MRS. RUTH EDDINGER

"I have never felt better in my life than I have since taking Ten Herbs," Mrs. Eddinger said. "I had suffered from stomach trouble for years. Gas and bloating always made me feel miserable after eating. Food did not seem to do me much good, as I was in a weak, run-down condition. I was also subject to heartburn. I had trouble with my nerves—would awake at all hours of the night, and in the morning would feel as though I had already done a hard day's work. Headaches came on me, and there were sharp pains across my back. My complexion was sallow, and there were puffs under my eyes. Constipation bothered me, and my blood circulation was poor. I lost fourteen pounds in weight."

"I read about Ten Herbs in the papers and started taking your medicine. I certainly am glad that I tried it for I am now feeling fine and have regained lost weight. My stomach is in the best condition. I can eat anything without having distress afterwards. I am free of gas, bloating and heartburn. My nerves are calm. I sleep soundly all through the night and get up in the morning feeling rested and energetic. The pains are gone from my back. Headaches have disappeared, and my eyes do not bother me. My complexion has cleared, and I am no longer troubled with constipation. My blood circulation seems normal. Ten Herbs is wonderful for anyone whose health is run down. I am pleased to publicly endorse this medicine."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Senate Ready To Confirm Lenroot Reserve Officers To Meet Tonight

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—The long delayed battle over confirmation of former Senator Irvine L. Lenroot (R) of Wisconsin as a judge on the U. S. court of customs and tax appeals, was expected to break in the Senate this afternoon.

Administration spokesmen announced they had sufficient votes pledged to insure Lenroot's confirmation. The Wisconsin senator will be opposed by a handful of Democrats and insurgents on the ground he is unqualified to be a judge handling tariff and tax matters.

Who in the whole household knows best what's good to eat? The kiddies, of course. Then watch them at their breakfasts of Heinz Rice Flakes.

Spoonful after spoonful of crispy, golden-brown flakes of crunchy goodness hurrying from breakfast-bowl to eager little mouths. Joyous satisfaction with that delightful flavor like butter-browned nut-meats.

And joyous reward. Better health! For there's more to Heinz Rice Flakes than their fine flavor. There's a special health quality which comes from a new, patented Heinz process which transforms the natural roughage of the rice into a pure, edible cellulose. That's why these flakes have the properties of a gentle, natural laxative.

Yes, watch the children—and you'll learn a lot about good breakfasts and happy days!

President Puts Over Trick On Newspapermen

Sidetracks. Washington
Scribes In First Visit To Summer White-house

WRITERS LEARN OF HOAX TOO LATE

By ALFRED T. NEWBERRY
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Herbert Hoover has pulled his first presidential trick over the White House correspondents and his subordinate assistants at the executive mansion.

And those duped are far from being pleased. It was a laughless joke. All week it was generally believed President and Mrs. Hoover were to spend the week-end at Catoctin Furnace, near Frederick, Md. Lawrence Richey, one of the Hoover secretaries, recently purchased the tract of woodland and mountain creek. Few persons were on the President's calling list last Saturday (April 27) and the Hoover trip to Western Maryland was accepted by all until the following announcement was given:

"Mr. Hoover planned to visit Catoctin Furnace this week-end but decided to cancel the trip last night. Instead he will take a motor trip through the capital and its environs."

Leaves Washington
The correspondents relayed this information to their offices. They interpreted it as "knocking off" for the afternoon because following the presidential limousine would be mere folly as the President and First lady were going on a motor ride through the vicinity and not to any particular destination. They were telephoning their report as the White House limousine glided down the driveway into Pennsylvania avenue to disappear into the maze of traffic.

The Hoovers did take a ride through the capital but only in the north-westward direction and Washington's "environs" specified in the official announcement developed to be Maryland's towns dotting the route to Catoctin Furnace, twelve miles beyond historic Frederick.

President Hoover's joke on the White House reporters did not go over with the country correspondents. Frederick folks know a White House automobile when they see the government insignia. Country folk who live near Catoctin Furnace learned the president was in their midst when they saw the big machine drive into the tract. The hand-ringing country telephones were started into action and within short time the telegraph wires were carrying across the country the "scoop" of the rural scribes over their colleagues in the capital.

First Visit
This was the initial visit of the Hoovers to the Maryland site they expect to visit during the summer months. Mr. Hoover was dangling his fishing line into Hunting Creek in short order. His lines and tackle had been shipped there some time ago. Mr. and Mrs. Richey, commissioner Henry O'Malley and other members of the United States Bureau of Fisheries were at Catoctin to greet the distinguished visitors. They had shipped quickly out of Washington earlier in the day.

Richey knew the president was coming. He had tents erected for the Hoovers to remain overnight. After a picnic lunch beneath a tall tree Mr. Hoover decided to return to the capital. The clouds threatened rain and it did rain a few hours later. Before 9 p. m. they were back in the White House.

The President inspected the fifteen pools and dams that have been supplied with 1,000 speckled trout by the Frank Walton League of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Hoover took an interest in the site for the proposed presidential cabin. It was to contain between eight and ten rooms and its first story will be constructed of brick. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover plan to devote their week-ends this summer between the Maryland tract and the retreat they have obtained in Shenandoah National Park in Virginia, through which flows the Rapidan river.

Sloop Mischief To Have Ocean Grave

Cup Defender To Be Allowed To Rest Off Boston Light

(International News Service)
BOSTON, May 16.—The famous sloop Mischief, the next to last America's cup defender afloat, which half a century ago successfully retained the famous yachting trophy on this side of the Atlantic, will be committed to a final resting place in the deep off either Boston Light or Grave's Light on May 26 with impressive naval honors.

By unanimous vote of the Massachusetts Bay Yacht Club association, composed of 30 yacht clubs around the bay, it was decided to give the noted old sloop, which has been crumbling away in Chelsea, a fitting burial and let her go down to Davy Jones' locker with all colors flying.

Once the pride of this country, when in 1881 she defended the blue ribbon event of the sea by taking two straight races from the British challenger, Atlanta, off Sandy Hook and New York harbor, the Mischief has fallen from her once high position to become an oil barge rotting in Chelsea creek.

Rear-Commodore William U. Swan of the Milton Yacht club, as a matter of true yachting sentiment purchased the Mischief, and the purchase price was underwritten by the association.

According to plans already formulated, a convoy of about 200 yachts of every description and from every club along the New England seaboard, will escort the Mischief down the harbor.

The Mischief, which was built in 1881 and carried the colors of the New York Yacht club in her victories, was the second steel hulled vessel built in the United States.

The last of the cup defenders is the Resolute, which Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams skippered to victory over the Shamrock IV.

Build Baby Airship; German Experiment

(International News Service)
BERLIN, May 16.—A four-passenger baby airship is being constructed by the Raab-Katzenstein Works at Cassel to study the possibilities of the lighter-than-air craft as a means of transportation.

The baby blimp is 120 feet long, has a gas content of 1,440 cubic meters and will be propelled by two 40-horsepower motors at a speed of 60 to 70 miles an hour.

The framework will consist in the main of steel tubing and the ship will be anchored to a new type of transportable anchor mast.

The cabin provides room for four passengers. One pilot is to be sufficient to operate the ship.

You see, we need cruisers enough to outscarp other nations either way.—The Rochester Times-Union.

Improvement In Britain's Trade Aids Industry

Return To Prosperity Materializing More Rapidly Than Expected In England

COAL SHIPMENTS GREATLY INCREASED

LONDON, May 15.—The anticipated return of industrial prosperity in Britain is materializing more than was expected.

In particular the coal trade, so long and unhappily depressed, is experiencing a welcome improvement. The change for the better being particularly noticeable in the north-east district, of which 12,000,000 tons of coal were shipped in January, 1929, as compared with 230,000 tons in the same month of 1928.

Coal Exports

The South Wales ports of Cardiff, Swansea, Newport, Llanelli and Port Talbot have also shown a big increase in coal exports over last year. And not only has the export trade in coal improved, but domestic progress has also been registered in demands for the home market.

To cope with the orders a number of collieries, including the important South Kirby Colliery in Yorkshire are now working seven days a week. Throughout the entire South Yorkshire coalfield full time is being worked for the first time in five or six years, and many thousands of additional men are being given employment at the pits. In particular all other collieries pits that have been shut down for years are preparing to re-open.

Encouraging signs of activity are

STATE'S HEALTHIEST BOY AND GIRL

There aren't any healthier young folk in all Indiana than Dorothy McNeel, 17, of Morgan county and Harold Deatline, 17, who lives on a farm near Indianapolis. They won health honors at the annual 4-H club round-up at Purdue university. They will represent their state at the club congress in Chicago next December.

Also noted in the iron and steel trade, open for tender by British firms has more blast furnaces in operation than last year and the output for January, the latest figures available, show 721,000 tons as compared with 683,000 tons in December last. This is an increase of 135,000 tons on the same time last year.

The Electrical industry is accelerating pace. Under the schemes of the Central Electricity Board several contracts for $15,000,000 each have been given out and others are proceeding apace giving much fresh employment.

Orders for ships are also coming to the yards with welcome frequency. Among the latest are orders for two cargo steamers to be built at Sunderland, another for a Cardiff firm of 7,000 tons is to be built at Stockton, and another Welsh firm is having a 6,500 ton vessel built and engaged in the same area.

A long list of contracts that are

Mme. Curie Talks About Disaster In Her home In Paris.

World Famous Woman Scientist Says Cleveland Disaster
May Be Electrical Cause

(International News Service)
PARIS, May 16.—Mme. Curie, the world's foremost woman scientist and co-discoverer of radium with her husband, expressed belief today that electrical apparatus or wiring may have caused the Cleveland disaster with the loss of 118 lives.

Mme. Curie and Dr. Petrou, director of the Curie Radiography service united in this belief.
In an exhaustive statement to International News Service Mme. Curie said: "I do not see how the X-Ray can be indicted on account of the Cleveland explosion. I think it could have been caused only by a short circuit. X-Rays are perfectly safe but a short circuit is a purely electrical accident which might happen anywhere.

Mahoning Gun Club To Shoot Tonight

Dr. J. H. Carpenter announced today that the Mahoning Gun club would stage their first twilight shoot of the year this evening at the range at 5:30 o'clock Daylight Savings time. All members are invited to attend this initial shoot and to bring their friends.

Always and everywhere, the chief cause of evil is the reasonable hope of getting away with it.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 16.—Mrs. Mary Pierce's embarkation on the Graf Zeppelin from Friedrichshafen early today took her family here completely by surprise. When International News Service informed her husband, Henry J. Pierce, stock broker, of his wife's action in sailing despite the fact that she had told him she wouldn't make the trip, all he could say was: "Well, doesn't that beat the dickens."

Diving Club Boys Banquet Wednesday

Members of the boys' diving club of the Ben Franklin junior high school enjoyed a banquet in the model apartment, located in the school Wednesday evening. The meal was cooked and served by members of the Rotary Boy Scout troop. Those boys were Herbert, Melrose, Robert Allen, Frank Fleming, Albert Laurel, Dick Clark and Joe Snyder.

Following the dinner Supervisor Ito Norton called on Herbert Melrose, president of the club, and Secretary Harold Saunders for short talks. They were followed by games try to hate.

Your Broadway AND Mine BY WALTER WINCHELL

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, May 10.—New York is not the only town where the river-waiter matters. John Held, Jr., told P. Ray Gertz of this amazing incident in Hollywood. One of the series of the movie belt was choked with a great crowd one evening. Celebrities from the stage and screen worlds collected, flashlight beams, movie cameras clicked, cry officials made speeches and there were fireworks, parades, bunting, banners, flags and so on.

The occasion was the opening of a new filling station.
WHO DID IT? AND WHY?
Described as "the newest mystery play," and coming from Atlantic City with sugary notices, "The Jade God," Ben Stein's first production, opened at the Cor. It is fashioned after the familiar formula of laborious and lame "thrillers," but appeared to attract the attention of some of the auditors. It is, however, a listless affair, given to great talk, containing none of the essentials necessary to lift the fuzz on your arms.

MERCILESS TRUTH
Overheard in one of the snootier Broadway places: "I'm so sorry I didn't know you, but I've such a rotten memory."
"Sign on this dotted line then, old-timer; we can use you in Hollywood as a scenario writer. A guy like you who can't remember anything is just what we need, because you're the type that'll keep us from being sued for plagiarism."

IN FEWER WORDS
For the Crisp Cracks From Critics:

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—constipation of blood in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. Leonard's Hemorrhoid, a harmless tablet, is guaranteed to quickly and safely banish any form of pile misery or money back. McKee's Kut Rate Store, Rectors of New Castle, Pa., and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee.

Cusses contest. Bob Ring of the Newark Sunday Call, offers this. Edward Southern Hipp, the critic for the rag, covered Ned Wayburn's late "Gambols," which played Newark in late November. The reviewer wrote: "Mr. Wayburn brought his show to Newark one week too late. We could have used a Turkey on Thanksgiving."

RACKET?
It happened to Robert C. Benchley, who wonders if it is a new racket. Benchley went into a 56th street you-know-what to have a coca-cola the other yawning and when he came out a few minutes later a taxi driver said: "Here I am, mister; I had to park over there."
"What of it?" queried the famous critic and clown. "I don't know you."
"You don't know me?" was the indignant reply. "Well, I like that! You told me to wait for you. The meter now says two bucks and a half. Kick in!"

As a bluecoat ankled along Benchley went over to complain about the attempt to gyp him. The driver, however, stepped on the accelerator and faded out of the picture as swiftly as a girl smoking her first cigar.

THIS TOWN OF OURS
The dice parlors are thriving again, but not in the Canyon of the Calhoun. One of the better known literary couples have filmed their love-life with a Pathex so that their friends can howl. "Tade Styl's" is completing a full length painting of Per Joyce, whose life time will go between Macaulay covers in the fall. He is also doing Harding's, which probably will close the controversy "Why is Harding's portrait the only presidential likeness that doesn't hang in the White House?" In Hollywood the pointed sword on the Joan of Arc statue is covered with a poster reading: "This Way to Grauman's Theater." Those two notes they took on a sax after a dance in night clubs to mean "That's All" are E and A. Detroit, renowned as the "Motor City," is also the leading producer of milk cans. Frank Gannett, the chain publisher, can always find a job for a Cornell man.

C. Chaplin and Georgia Hale are Adam-and-Eveing. The story of his recent illness was a phoney. He was on the sulk. "The Light in the Sky" will be the first book with a theme song: viz: "You Are My Light in the Sky." Eddie Foy, Jr., will rate a G per wk. in "Showell." Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, 2d, just set her new husband up in the interior decorating racket. A flock of parking garages will be announced as soon as the anti-parking regulations become a bit tougher.

The Mrs. McGinnis, who was charged with three traffic violations, only to be dismissed because she said her pappy was a magistrate, is really the dotter of a supreme court judge. Clem McCarthy will gangle the Kentucky Derby, although Graham McNamee will get the credit. The Mayfair in the Ritz closed for the season Satdee, with all the better known Gazumpers on hand. Burns Yawden and Ned Wayburn.

Jed Harris, successful young producer of "Broadway" and other hits, sailed on the Ile de France and has retired. Until, of course, he finds a promising play. Fox has bought up Earl McGill's contract at a large enough sum to permit him to move out of a three-room apt. into a seven room one. The Chansins will open their Ski-high theater on the 50th and 51st floors of the new Chanin estate in three wks. Most movie shops now list "Cradle of the Deep" under fiction. Mae West wrote three more plays while in Chicago. God forbid! Clyde Criswell, white artist and author, has moved from Greenwich Village to live with Lieut. Jay Clifford, colored customs inspector, in his sepiu sector shack, so that he can acquire local color for his next book.

When Dave McCord of the Lidigst got sealed to Ruth (Harper's) Raphael, he switched his tag to Raphael McCord. Isn't that ducky? R. C. O'Brien, one of Judge's comedians, lives next door to a cemetery. Anne Morrison, "Jonesy" co-author, is Mrs. Newton Chapin of Pittsburgh, and has so much money she can buy you and you, and even you!

JUSTICE WORKS FAST ON MICHIGAN BREWER
(International News Service)
COLDWATER, Mich., May 10.—Justice was swift in the case of A. J. Northut.
His home was raided at 9 o'clock by officers who caught him in the act of manufacturing homebrew.
At 10 o'clock Northut pleaded guilty in lower court. At 10:30 he appears in Circuit court and was sentenced to Jackson Prison for a term of from six months to one year. At 11 o'clock, Northut was en route to the institution.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF ALEMITE-EQUIPPED CARS

To Be Sure Genuine Alemite Lubricants—Lubricants Made Especially for Use in Alemite High Pressure Lubricating Systems—Are Used in Your Car

Go to the Alemite-ing Stations Listed Below
—Look for the Yellow Sign

Owners of cars, equipped with the Alemite High Pressure Lubricating Systems, frequently ask whether or not a special type of lubricant is required in those systems.

The answer is, "yes." All greases are not fitted to the Alemite Systems. The use of unknown, inferior greases, frequently found in haphazard "Greasing Stations" claiming "High Pressure Lubrication," is seriously urged against.

Even systematic "greasing" of that nature, based on mileage, is not PROPER LUBRICATION. Nor is it insurance against the Improper Lubrication to which 80% of all repair bills are traced by authorities.

Simple Protection Now

For your own protection, the obviously sensible thing is to go direct to a genuine Alemite-ing Station for lubrication service. To have your car Alemited; not "greased."

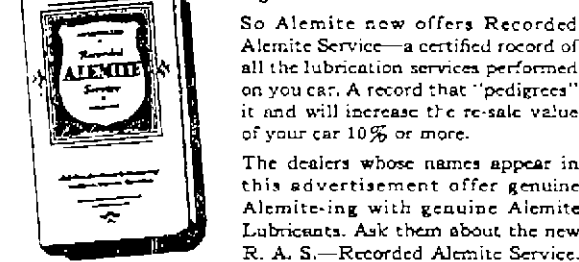

These stations, listed below, identified by the Yellow Sign shown here, use special Alemite Lubricants. Lubricants developed by the makers of the Alemite Systems, themselves, after years of research, as CORRECT for those systems. Lubricants that NEVER VARY in quality.

Look for the Big Yellow Sign

How To Increase the Trade-In Value of Your Car

Alemite High Pressure Lubricating Systems together with Alemite Lubricants especially designed for the most efficient results in these systems, lengthen car life and largely eliminate 80% of all repair bills. Car manufacturers recognize this—so more than 95% of today's cars are equipped with Alemite. A properly lubricated automobile means a long-lived automobile—one that naturally commands a higher trade-in value.

So Alemite now offers Recorded Alemite Service—a certified record of all the lubrication services performed on your car. A record that "pedigrees" it and will increase the re-sale value of your car 10% or more. The dealers whose names appear in this advertisement offer genuine Alemite-ing with genuine Alemite Lubricants. Ask them about the new R. A. S.—Recorded Alemite Service.

Efficient mechanics serve you at these stations. You get the ultimate in scientific lubrication to protect your car's life; to give you smoother operation and amazingly fewer repair bills.

What Alemite-ing Consists Of

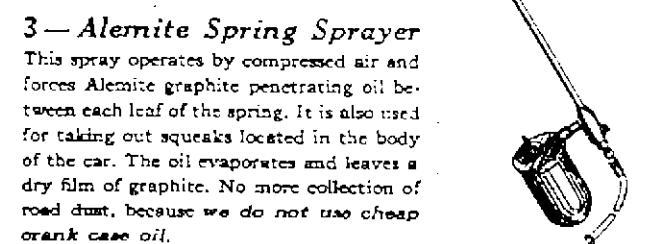

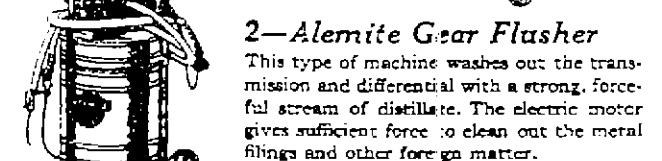

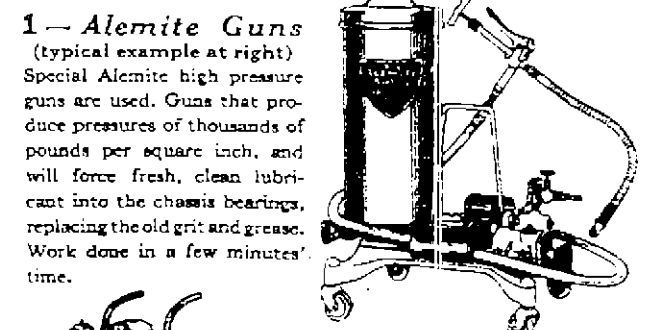

1. BEARINGS: Alemite High Pressure Lubricant forced into every vital chassis bearing with Alemite equipment by expert Alemite mechanics—every 500 miles.
2. GEARS: Differential and transmission thoroughly flushed out by a special Alemite process. New Alemite Gear Lubricant forced in—every 2,500 miles.
3. SPRINGS: Springs sprayed with special Alemite Graphite Penetrating Oil—every 500 miles. Eliminating ALL spring squeaks and making the car run immeasurably smoother.

Just drive your car to one of the stations listed below and try this service. You will notice an immediate difference in the way your car runs.

Specially Designed Equipment for Alemite-ing

Now you can be sure. Watch the work yourself. Not a bearing will be missed. And the work will be done in just a few minutes with latest type super-machines. Most of the Alemite dealers listed below use this type of equipment.

In having your car lubricated insist on genuine Alemite lubricants. These lubricants cost the dealers more money—but costs you no more than ordinary greasing.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas And Pain.
How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly one-half of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burping, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sores, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows all too well.

Acidic distaste is not needed in such cases and may do real harm.
Instead of food, it digests acids and residual mucus and thus a toxic substance is produced. This secret acid, which is the cause of the disagreeable symptoms, prevents the formation of gastric juice and thus there is no digestion. Acid is not a desirable magnesia (or powder or tablet form—never take or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most effective form of medicine for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctor's word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most.
Some night when consumption must be relieved or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; sometimes mothers keep an extra bottle unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

THE BEST OIL IN ANY CASE

That Something in Reserve Which Makes a Winner

ANY runner can enter a race. But it takes stamina to cross the tape a winner.

Any oil can lubricate a motor under ordinary conditions. But today's driving presents many a sudden emergency. We have our high compression motors. Terrific speeds are common. Long gruelling trips are every day occurrences with the motor humming for hours at a time. An oil needs something more than mere claims of lubrication.
Sterling Oil is refined from 100% Pure Pennsylvania crude, which in its natural state possesses more qualities for heat resistance and endurance than any other oil known. In addition to this the most modern refining equipment obtainable is used to bring those qualities to their highest motor efficiency.

That is why Sterling can run a thousand miles and still have reserve left for an emergency. Nature endowed it with the qualities of a winner and refining has merely perfected them.

Not just a paraffin base oil, but refined entirely from 100% Pure Pennsylvania, recognized as the highest grade crude oil in the world.

TWO RECOGNIZED SIGNS OF QUALITY

Sterling Motor Oil

Sterling Motor Oil is scientifically refined from 100% Pure Pennsylvania Crude Oil. It is purified by a special filtration process and is free from sulphur, acid and other injurious substances. It has a minimum of carbon and a "Factor of Safety" that prevents it from breaking down and losing its lubricating qualities under extreme motor temperature.

Sterling Gasoline

Sterling Gasoline is carefully tested to maintain unvarying specifications insuring a uniformity of quality that will give satisfaction under all driving conditions.
It is carefully balanced to give equal efficiency for both easy starting and power.
Its even chain of boiling points provides complete combustion and a smooth, steady flow of power at all speeds.

Sterling Ethyl Gasoline

With its original superior quality, easy starting and sturdy even power, Sterling Gasoline, when treated with the Ethyl fluid produces an exceptionally high grade Ethyl gasoline that completely eliminates fuel knock. It also increases power, improves acceleration and gives smooth operation with greater economy.
Especially recommended for the new type high compression motor.

Parents Bury Wrong Child

Mother Faints At Grave
When Told Of Error
After Burial

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—Last week two children were admitted to the city hospital, one Melvin George Anderson, 5, suffering with scarlet fever, and Chester Lyle Anderson, stricken with spinal meningitis.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson were notified their child was near death. They hastened to the hospital to be told that Melvin George was dead and the casket sealed because of a state law on contagious disease deaths.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Anderson buried the child. After the services they stood with bowed heads in the rain at the side of the fresh grave. Both wept.

The caretaker of the cemetery approached and called Anderson aside, speaking to him in a low voice. Anderson approached his wife as she stood gazing through her tears at the mound of wet yellow clay.

"There's been a mistake," Anderson told his wife, "the child there," pointing to the grave. "Isn't ours."

Mrs. Anderson fell over the grave in a faint.

Through a mistake, Melvin George's name had been placed on the death certificate in place of Chester Lyle's. Melvin George is recovering.

Today another Anderson family reburied Chester Lyle.

the disease. The survey was made in co-operation with the United States Public Health Service. Forty-three districts were selected in various parts of the Commonwealth to obtain a cross section of the population exclusive of the metropolitan centers of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Department nurses were assigned to districts covering approximately 1000 individuals.

The survey covered 32,249 persons, 2,602 of whom were ill during the influenza period. Among the cases reported were 5,820 afflicted with influenza, 180 with pneumonia and 3,562 cases of aggravated colds. Twenty-four deaths were reported in the territory covered.

Days' Prayer In Congress

The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Gracious Heavenly Father, with Thee we would begin this day and be sensitively conscious that Thou art the source of all wisdom. For give our incompetency and help us. Give us great confidence in that divine guidance that assures the man of vision the faithful servant and the loving heart. Without this we make our duty an uninvited drudgery. It is for us, our Father, to express ourselves in terms of helpfulness; inspire us to do so. We may fail in ten thousand things, but we must not fail in one. We must live and speak the soul's truth. Take our homes and our children and fold them in Thy blessed arms. Dispel all fear and lull them to sweet repose. How memorable shall be this day if we bring gladness and encouragement to others. May we do so; and unto Thee be eternal praises. Amen.

BOTTLED CONCERTS

John McCormack may be right when he says the concert is doomed. In a few years the artist will be photographed at the same time that a record is made of his song. Then the film will be sold far and wide for use in the home.

"And," said McCormack, "wouldn't you rather hear music in a place where you could turn about and say, 'Isn't that marvelous?' than to sit in public and be still for a whole evening?"

KICKLESS ALCOHOL

A new kind of alcohol has been invented. It has no kick. It is probably much better than the old kind but will be very much less in demand. This new alcohol, by the way, is made from petroleum. Time was when coal was the principal product for the manufacture of all sorts of by-products. Petroleum, with its new possibilities, may take the place of coal as the Santa Claus of the industrial world.

THE MOVIE IN CHINA

It is the trick of high-brow writers to praise the older civilization of the Orient and belittle the newer American civilization. It is conceivable that new things may be as good as old—even things as serious as philosophy and civilization. You may learn by inquiring in Shanghai that the Chinese particularly like scenes of cruelty in their motion pictures. They like well-directed custard pies, just as we do on the American screen, but they like scenes of downright brutality better.

BACKWARD

Not so many years ago more than 200 Frenchmen out of every thousand died yearly from smallpox. Recently there has been an outbreak of smallpox in a part of England. Ignorant persons have opposed vaccination. Even in America, supposed to be scientifically advanced, there are those who oppose vaccination. It is not only the actually mentally defective who drag behind the procession.

Goitre Not A Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

Milwaukee, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. E-54, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Write him today.—Adv.

Perfect browning... perfect cooking

while you're out of the kitchen

It's amazingly easy to cook delicious meals in the Westinghouse "Flavor Zone" Oven. For it first browns, then cooks to perfection, without the slightest attention from you.

You merely set the clock on the oven and adjust the thermostat when you put the food in the cold oven. Then you're free until time to serve the meal. The heat comes on automatically and is shut off automatically at exactly the right time. You do not have to baste the meat or add water to the vegetables. And since cooking is entirely automatic, there's never any guesswork about results.

They are as savory and as appetizing as the rich juicy roasts, the sugar crusted hams, succulent vegetables and spicy puddings cooked in the famed Dutch ovens of old colonial days.

Speed Plans To Install Printers

HARRISBURG, May 15.—Installation of telegraphic printer service, details of which are now worked out, will enable Pennsylvania to continue in the forefront of State Police achievement, officials of the department said today. Adoption of the system was made possible by Governor John S. Fisher's approval of a measure carrying $240,000 for the work.

Officials expect the system to be completed and ready for operation in six months. It will then be possible to send instantly details of any crime committed and description of the criminals.

The Pennsylvania State Police first to adopt a rural patrol in every section of the Commonwealth, also will be the leader among the states in co-ordinating police activities.

TELLS METHODS TO FIGHT FRUIT MOTH

HARRISBURG, May 15.—Complete information on the Oriental fruit moth, one of the most destructive orchard pests of today, is now available in a bulletin issued by the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The spread of the insect into practically all sections of the State during the past five years, and the loss which it causes, have resulted in great concern among fruit growers generally.

This publication which gives the latest recommendations for reducing the amount of injury caused by the insect, can be secured free by addressing a request to the State Department of Agriculture at Harrisburg.

In the total discharged 1,618 or 35 per cent, were classed as incipient cases, 2,083 or 45 per cent, moderately advanced and 892 or 20 per cent, far advanced.

Weather Signs Reliable Says Bureau Expert

Old Proverbs Can Be Relied Upon When Daily Forecast Is Not Avail-

COLOR OF SKY HAS BEARING ON CASE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 15.—Probably the weather forecast in the little box on the front page of the daily newspaper is almost the first item most of the millions of newspaper readers scan.

Explaining this, Weather Bureau experts say that those who live in the city want to know, naturally, whether to carry an umbrella or put chains on the automobile, while those who are engaged in agriculture, the probable state of the weather for the day and the prediction for tomorrow determines what work will be planned or accomplished.

"With reliable service from the Weather Bureau it would seem that the old-time weather proverbs would soon pass out of use and would soon be forgotten, even if any of them were dependable," one of the experts said. "Many, indeed, were absurd and misleading, but not a few are interesting as reflecting the accuracy of observation by those who are 'out in all weathers,' and useful when the daily paper is not at hand to furnish a forecast."

According to this expert among the best of these, perhaps, are the proverbs that have to do with the color of the sky and the appearances of the sun, the moon, and the stars, for all are affected by the state of the atmosphere.

Sun Fables
"Any modified appearance of the sun is most conspicuous when it is near the horizon," the expert said. "Hence there are many weather proverbs about the sun at morning or evening. When the air is heavily charged with dust particles laden with moisture we see the sun as a fiery red ball, and predict rain, in such proverbs as 'a red sun has water in his eye' or 'if red, the sun begins his race, be sure the rain will fall apace.' The red sun implies a humid atmosphere, condition essential and favorable to the occurrence of rain."

"On the other hand, a red evening sky usually means that the air contains very little moisture and that rain within the next 24 hours is improbable. When the evening sky is overcast with uniform gray the dust particles in the atmosphere have evidently become loaded with much moisture, giving rise to the proverb, 'if the sunset is gray, the next day will be a rainy day.'"

"A gray morning sky, however, for reasons which meteorologists can explain in connection with the formation of dew, generally justifies the expectation of a fair day. 'Evening red and morning gray, two sure signs of one fair day.' An evening gray and a morning red, though, will send the shepherd wet to bed."

BUDDING LAWYERS

RESPONSIBLE FOR CUT

By FRED G. SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
CLEVELAND, May 16.—Here's a tip to those who are tiring of the so called matrimonial yoke and have a burning desire to step out in single harness again:

Cleveland is probably offering cheaper divorces than any other city in the country. They're cheaper, but they're every bit as good after they become journal entries in the Cuyahoga county common pleas courts.

Up until a few months ago market quotations on the common or garden variety of marital severances were approximately $100, of course if the suit was contested and required a bit fancy palaver by the attorney, the cost was raised accordingly.

Shopping Around
But now if one does a bit of shopping around one can wheedle an attorney into taking on the entire proceedings with the usual number of to-wits and whereas guaranteed.

And maybe you think this condition of affairs isn't causing the divorce specialists among the legal fraternity to tear their hair and froth at the mouth. And probably to emit raucous cries of anger and despair.

Although this reporter doesn't need a divorce, actuated by a spirit of sheer curiosity, he interviewed a number of the younger attorneys.

Invariably they started at the standard price of $100. Then when there seemed to be some doubt in the prospective client's mind as to the costs, the market immediately took a bearish attitude and fell rapidly. In one instance divorce common fell to $25.

Call money would probably be the technical explanation for this phenomena but ready money would possibly be a more lucid cause.

Many Lawyers
At the present time there are scores of young lawyers in the city hard pressed for money and clients and for that reason the older specialists are suffering.

The only catch in the situation seems to be that the cubs of the bar, lacking the technical experience needed in divorce cases are likely to flop

when it comes to presenting the case in court. This, however, is simply the opinion expressed by the older and more seasoned attorneys. However if the youngster puts it across everybody connected with the case is just as "free, white and 21," as though the procedure had been conducted by a famous lawyer.

PLAINGROVE

GROVE CITY, May 16.—One hundred and twenty seniors, one of the largest classes ever to be graduated from Grove City high school, will receive diplomas at the annual exercises to be held Tuesday evening, June 4, according to announcements yesterday at the school office.

Graduate week events will start on the evening of May 31 with the senile play, "The Goose Hangs High," presented in the school auditorium. A capable cast is working hard over rehearsals, under the directions of the faculty committee consisting of Miss Lithgow, Miss McMullen and Mr. Surrena.

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday evening, June 2, in the United Presbyterian church. All congregations of the city will unite to honor the graduates. Dr. C. E. Petree, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will deliver the sermon.

Honor pupils of the graduating class announced are:
Highest honors—Bernice Gilmore.
High honors—Louise Styers.

McCoy, Olive Jackson, Clifford Har-shaw, Edith Williams and Robert Flint.

These will appear on the commencement program. Commencement night will be given over to the graduates and honor pupils, according to the long established custom. Differing from many other schools in this respect, school authorities feel that the program should be given over to the pupils without an outside speaker to bring the address.

The program will be presented as follows:
President's address—Clifford Har-shaw.

Oration—Bernice Gilmore.

difficult matter to put out a fire caused by such films."

Dr. Ray also said that the bromide gas given off by the burning film and to which many of the deaths in the hospital disaster were attributed was a very "deadly and vicious gas."

"The gas is caused by the chemical composition of the film," Dr. Ray said,
"and it is quite deadly. That it could be responsible for some of the fatalities which occurred is quite probable."

Jackson Students Have Class Party

Fifty students attended the junior and senior party of the Mt. Jackson high school and which occurred Wednesday evening in the school auditorium.

Following games and music, the diversion of the evening, a lunch was served by the committee of students in charge.

Members of the refreshment committee were Mary Patterson, Elizabeth Wallace, Elizabeth Reed, Grace Wallace, Norman Gilchrist, Mark
Daugherty and Nellie Snyder.

Attorney Reynolds To Make Address

Arrangements have been about completed by New Castle Lodge No. 195,
I. O. O. F. for the annual observance of Memorial Day of that order. It will be held in Greenwood cemetery.
The service here this year will be held on the afternoon of Sunday,

June 16. The time has been set for 3:30 p. m. D. S. T. Should weather conditions not permit of the holding of the outdoor services, they will be held in the hall of the order.

Members of all the I. O. O. F. lodges in the county have been invited to participate in this affair, which has every indication of being very largely attended.

Walter S. Reynolds has been secured to make the principal address of the service. The I. O. O. F. as a nation wide organization set aside one day a year for this memorial service.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Heroes may be born, and not made as the sage put it, but occasionally one of them crops out in full bloom with no advance warning. One of the tribe made his appearance at the corner of Mill and Washington streets this morning, and a lot of North Hill folks wish to place him in nomination for a hero medal.

It rained this morning, to put it mildly. Some there are who would say that it was a second cousin to a flood while it lasted, with the result that at Mill and Washington the street was running curb full.

Charley Garwig was the motorman of the street car that enters the scene, and because the street was so full of water at the usual stop, Charley brought the car on down to the corner.

Here, according to the secret service operative who turned in this one, it looked like the Sea of Azov. Enter our hero, behind the wheel of a modest little car. Does he splash by, cascading water onto silken hose?

He does not. Pulling up close to the street car he invited the passengers to step off the car onto his bumper and thus taxi across to the dry sidewalk.

Who the owner of the car was I do not know. He may be running for office, or he may be a mattress salesman from Davenport, Ia. Whatever and whoever he is, his license number is 122-203 and I hope he lives to be a hundred.

After paying out two cart wheels to see a minstrel, I ask you shouldn't one see the minstrel. The answer is obviously yes. The actual result is no.

Got all dressed up last night, seats in the second row, weather elegant and everything more than lovely. Got into the Cathedral early in order to see the curtain go up and to hear the usual ta-ra-ra of the orchestra.

The circle had just got through the opening number and Herman Hess was having an argument with one of the end men when an usher leaned over and whispered. The whisper had nothing to do with a drink but it did mean checking out of the show. Got back an hour later but the minstrel part had finished. Had it not been that the show was a benefit, I'd been looking for a refund today.

I hope Bill Jones don't get sore about this, but it really is too good to keep. When Bill tottered on as Old Black Joe, with the usual white whiskers, some vulgarian whispered to his partner, "is that supposed to be white whiskers or has he got his chin in a slip?"

Rules for driving the Wilmington detour. Lay off flirting with friends who live along the road. Some had nearly cost us both an armful of fender Wednesday afternoon when he leaned out over the door to wave a friendly greeting to the light of his life or of somebody's life. It's decently bad form, and fenders cost money.

You can roll your own tonight. If you belong to the Field club you can attend Doc Parlette's three ring carnival. If you like music, you can attend the concert of the Festival chorus. Either one of them will be good and you can't make a mistake at either place.

This column wishes to extend its good wishes to the Business and Professional Women who come to New Castle tomorrow for the convention of the organization. If the rest of the chapters are as good as the New Castle lassies are, then everything is under control.

Roger Francis has a new suppressed desire. He is organizing a reunion for the old Apollo club. A sort of gathering where they meld beef steaks and barber shop chords.

THE AGE OF OLD GOLD
The play teacher thought the children knew how to play blind man's bluff. She blindfolded one little girl and when the child did not move she asked: "Why don't you play?"
The child replied: "Where is the cigarette?"

AT LAST... a blended two-base motor oil

SOME motor oils are made from paraffine base oil, others from naphthene. Each has good qualities not shared by the other.

The perfect oil for the modern motor is an exact blend of oil made from the best paraffine and the best naphthene bases. This ultimate oil we have produced in grades suitable for any motor in any climate.

Do you like your motor?

If you have that regard bordering on affection for your motor, drive to the nearest Gulf Dealer and try this Gulf Supreme Motor Oil. It lubricates perfectly, resists high temperatures, minimizes knocking, seals piston rings and does the utmost that oil can do to give you a smooth-running, quiet motor.

Modern motors demand it

The high compression, the speed and power of the modern motor demand a two-base oil with the maximum stamina, the sealing qualities, the resistance to heat and wear that is only obtainable by combining the qualities of paraffine and naphthene base oils.

We urge you to test Gulf Supreme Motor Oil in your car and judge for yourself
the improved performance and economy of this twobase oil.

CHEST COMMITTEE INSPECTS NEW HOSPITAL ADDITION

H. R. Smith, Chairman Of Drive, Pleads For 100% Subscriptions From Merchants

Much Admiration Excited By Modern And Beautiful Equipment In Rooms

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—Fifty members of the committee in charge of the 1929 Community Chest drive met Wednesday evening in the new addition to the Ellwood City hospital.

Before the meeting several of the hospital board of directors took the committee through the hospital. Two of the rooms already have patients in, as the older part is cramped for space. The entire new section is a surprise and delight to all who view it. The waiting room is artistically decorated with clever lamps and oriental scatter rugs. The furnace room looks efficient, and space has been left for another boiler, should the occasion arise necessitating the building of another wing. The private rooms are tastefully decorated, and show the newest of modern hospital furnishings in color. The rooms furnished by private families and local clubs are especially beautiful, with carved maple beds, pretty chintz screens and bridge lamps.

The children's wards are done in color combinations of pink and green with buff furniture, that will delight the heart of any little shut-in of the future. What particularly made an appeal to the committee was the babies' ward. A small room with a pink-curtained window opening into the hall, and containing four diminutive buff colored bassinets along one wall, and on the other a compartment in the same color holding four little beds together. The tiny counterpanes and lace-edged pillows excited many ohs and ahs.

Just as appealing, only from a different standpoint, was the modern nickel-finished delivery room, with the latest equipment money can buy, also the operating room, at the top of the building, large and light, from which one can glimpse a bird's-eye view of the entire city.

There is no excuse for any person

Announce Poster Winners For The Community Chest

Committee Has Difficult Time Selecting Winners From Scores Of Attractive Posters

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—The waiting room of the new hospital addition was strewn last evening with scores of colorful and attractive as well as clever posters depicting the chest drive, by students of the local schools from the sixth grade, including the high school.

These were so many that showed careful thought and energy that the committee had a difficult time narrowing the selection down to the required four, one from each group. Finally, however, Miss Charlotte Brown of the high school was awarded the prize for her group. She exhibited a poster suggestive of Maxwell's demon, a youth seated on a wall dreamily contemplating the distant scenery which contained the new hospital building; Miss Dorothy Graham of 8-B won for her group. Miss Betty Nickum of seventh grade won for her group and Miss Mary Zona took honors for 6-B. The prizes are $2.50 in gold and will be awarded some time next week in front of the red feather on the Central building grounds.

The committee who judged the posters were Dr. Charles Bell, Lewis Nickum and W. P. Kegel.

Dr. Charles Bell Gives Spirited Talk For Chest

President Of Hospital Board Makes Strong Plea For Co-operation In Talk Here

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—Dr. Charles Bell, president of the board of directors of the Ellwood City hospital spoke to the committeemen of the 1929 Community Chest drive in the entrance hall of the hospital Wednesday evening.

Dr. Bell stated in no uncertain terms that "One feather does not make a pillow, nor one man a community," stressing emphatically the fact that cooperation is needed to put the 1929 Community Chest drive over the top successfully, as in former years. "The two great things that make a community," continued Dr. Bell, "are to contribute and cooperate."

Dr. Bell has been a resident of Ellwood City since lanterns had to be used on Lawrence avenue, and he has watched the spirit of the town grow to its present successful proportions, and he stated that the many loyal citizens who have not withheld of their substance when called upon, accounts for the present successful community. In closing he stated "the real citizen gives of himself and his substance, asking no remuneration, and the far-reaching reputation of Ellwood City for going over the top each year is adding fame to the town."

Plans Complete For Triangular Meet At Ben Franklin Field

New Castle Will Be Host Next Tuesday To Wilkesburg And Washington Stars

Meet Will Start Promptly At 3 O'Clock; News Offers Handsome Trophy Cup

(By CHARLES LANDOLF)
Plans for New Castle's first triangular track and field meet in which Washington, Wilkesburg and New Castle high schools line up for the starting gun next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock D. S. T. at Franklin field have been completed, according to Ralph H. Gardner. The meet will mark the initial appearance of an athletic team from Wilkesburg.
The meet which Gardner has lined up is different from the meets in which some 30 or more schools are competing. In a meet like the one to be held here next Tuesday, one good sprint man can alone win a meet for his school where on the other hand points are all split up among the different schools. In a meet where three or even four teams are competing the best balanced team will emerge victorious at the end. In this coming track affair it looks like a nip and tuck event with the red and black "warriors" standing just as good a chance to cop as the other contestants.

Depends on Craft.
Wilkesburg, according to statistics, is bringing to New Castle an athlete who is going to make it miserable for the other teams in the weight and hurdle events. But New Castle in Art Craft has an athlete who should be able to hold him even along the point scoring problem. On paper the meet looks like a real tussle between Wilkesburg and New Castle with Washington in third place.

In addition to Craft, New Castle has the help of Clemens, who generally always scores in the half mile run.
Burry, the one mile runner for the locals, is also going to help make the meet interesting for the visitors. "Willie" Campbell in the quarter mile is coming along fine and is expected to cause the other athletes plenty of grief. Wario in the high jump and pole vault and Sandru in the broad jump are being pointed to do their part along the scoring proposition next Tuesday.

Locals Weak in Dashes.
New Castle looks like tail enders in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and in the hurdles, but Campbell, Harper, Sandru and Smith are preparing to get in tip-top shape for next Tuesday when they are able to compete against some of the best in western Pennsylvania and are apt to surprise.

Faculty Manager Gardner stated today that the meet would get under way immediately at 3 o'clock and would be over by 4:30. Adequate preparations have been made to keep the events running in rapid order and there will be no delays.
All three schools are working hard to be in the peak of condition for the meet next Tuesday. Trophies have been donated by The News and by the Sporting Goods store. The winner of the meet will take home as a token of victory the cup given by The News while the school relay team winners will be awarded the Sporting Goods store cup.

The admission price will be 25 cents and according to indications plans are being made to handle a large crowd. If fans respond by attending the meet like they attend football and basketball games then the holding of meets will be annual, according to Gardner.

Floods and storms destroy small sections but there never is a nationwide visitation unless you count bridge.

Lawrence County League Doings

Three games are on tap tonight in the Lawrence County league. Two regularly scheduled games and one postponed affair.

The Slovaks have a fine club and will be out to upset the railroaders tonight.

The game will start at 6 o'clock Daylight Savings time. The Penns roster contains such well known New Castle and county league stars as Harry James, Sam Dominick, George Byak, Bub Jones, E. Culbertson, Mickey Huff, Mike Orlando, Frank Boldon, D. Kauffman, Coates, F. Rodenbaugh, Steve Hutnick, John Valley, Jada Hofmeister, Paul Coates, B. Hennon, Jack Murphy, Carm Picarro and Manager McCleskey.

Parks will officiate.
On the regular schedule for tonight the Hillview team will play at Wampum with McCann and Nolte as the umpires. The Bessemer team tangles with the Italian A. A. at Centennial field with Price and Brooks working the game.

B. Watson of Scotland, three and two. Glenna clinched victory in the first nine holes of play, being three up at the turn.

Miss Joyce Wethered, the great English player who is packed to meet Miss Collett in the finals tomorrow, defeated Miss Molly Gourlay, a strong British player by seven and five.

The Record Wreckers

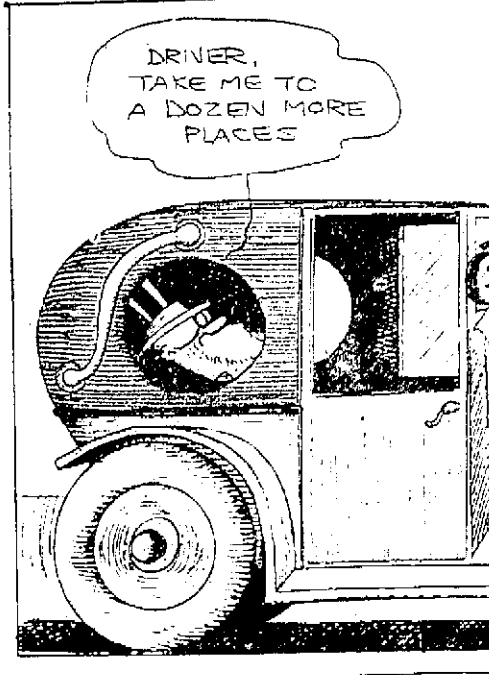

By QUIN HALL

Barney Berlinger, the 195-pound sophomore star from the University of Pennsylvania, has well established himself as a holder of the all-around championship title.

Twice recently—once at the University of Illinois games and later at the University of Pennsylvania—burly Barney has successfully proven that he is the best of the collegiate decathlon performers. At Philadelphia he rolled up a total of 7,298.978 points in the ten events to beat the carnival record of 7,236.5575 points made by Vernon Kennedy of Missouri State Teachers' college two years ago. He topped the field in the shotput, high jump and javelin throw and tied for first in the pole vault. He broke the decathlon record in the shotput and the pole vault and his only poor events were the runs.

Berlinger's pet aversion in the carnival events is the 1,500-meter run. It is also his only real weakness. If he could have run a decent race over this distance at Philadelphia he would have broken the American decathlon record, but, as it is, he must be con-

Herrera And Ferro Have "Kayo" Wallop

Herrera Has Knocked Out Four Opponents In Last Four Fights

FERRO HAS STOPPED TWO OF THREE FOES

By ED FRITZ
Four knockouts within 23 rounds and in less than 21 days. That is the record of Tony Herrera, the sensational Mexican who has been engaged to fight Frankie Ferro, the Philadelphia lightweight, at the Jolly Bowl next Monday night. During the last three weeks Ferro knocked out two opponents and another was fortunate to get the limit.

That is the information which drifts here today as the fighters train for what should prove an exciting, thrilling and spectacular battle Monday night and fans who have never seen either of the boxers in action are getting ready to attend the hectic fracas.

"I know Herrera is a good fighter, but Ferro is also a god fighter, a good puncher and a game fellow and Mr. Herrera will have to be a game fighter to beat him," writes Al Lippe, manager of Ferro, who also managed ex-champion Abe Attel and Jeff Smith.

"Ferro has never been knocked down or knocked out. He holds decisions over Vince Dundee, Joey Kauffman, Ernie Caesar, Eddie Reid, Babe Ruth, Mickey Diamond, Al Winkler, Emory Cabana and recently knocked out Spike Kenny and Tony Morletti. Diamond took a bad lacing. "When Ferro fought as a featherweight he met Benny Bass, who is now at the top of his career. It was Herrera will have difficulty doing this to Ferro, who figures a rushing, slambang fight. Frankie proposes, according to Al Lippe, to make a rushing fight and try to penetrate his guard. He will try, Lippe says, to take the play at the start from Herrera.

Carl Cavelli, local bantamweight, will fight Bobby Dempsey of Detroit, who is visiting relatives at Ambridge. According to the boys in Ambridge, Dempsey is a unit with a punch, fast and smart. If Carl can beat Dempsey he will be setting pretty in Flivver city.

Leo Moody, the flashy kid who intends to make New Castle his future home, will tackle Scotty Graham, who bravely spoke up recently and said he would fight Leo. If Scotty can go along with Moody he will be as good as Donato and other boys in that class.

The two Mazzo boys, Pete, former amateur champion of the U. S., and Vito, his brother, who took the Golden Glove trophy, will appear against Pres Johnson and Young Scotty of Akron in the four rounders. They are all good fighters.

It is peculiar, but nevertheless true, that the boys who appear not only in six rounders but four round bouts here participate as windup boxers in other cities. The reason for this is that they are paid above the average for fighting here and must have something.

Blue Larkspur Derby Favorite

Kentucky Derby Saturday Will Draw Thousands To Famous Louisville Track

(International News Service)
LOUISVILLE, May 16.—With the Kentucky derby only two days away, Blue Larkspur retained popular preference today and the Edward R. Bradley colt appeared likely to go to the post Saturday the shortest priced favorite in years.

The best offer quoted on Blue Larkspur was 2 to 1.

There seems to be hesitancy in backing him strongly because of a doubt that he can successfully negotiate muddy going. Why there should be a prevalent opinion that the track will be muddy Saturday is a mystery, unless it is because there were three days of almost continuous rain early in the week.

If the track proves muddy on Saturday Ervast and the Choctaw will not start. It was learned. Governor Sempson of Kentucky will have as his derby guests more than 150 persons, including governors of several other states.

Shires Knocks Out Manager Blackburne

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, May 16.—Charles Arthur Shires, bad boy of the White Sox, was under indefinite suspension today for punching his manager, Russell Blackburne.

Shires appeared on the field in a kiltish mood, wearing a comedy cap, and was admonished to discard the skimmer and dispense with burlesque.

Later in the clubhouse he knocked Blackburne down, cutting the manager's ear. Police and players stopped the battle. Shires collected his belongings and said he thought he would start back to his home in Italy, Texas.

Class B Teams Clash Friday

County Class B baseball will again take off on Friday evening in both east and west sections according to the official schedule.

In the East League Plaingrove and Wilmington will play at Wilmington, and Princeton and East Brook will clash at East Brook.

In the West league Mt. Jackson and Union will meet on the Mt. Jackson field while Shenango and Wampum are clashing at the Shenango field.

Following Friday night's tilts there will be but one more round of games before the season closes and the winners in each of the division leagues will be known.

Due to the weather there are a number of games which have to be played off throughout the county and these will have to take place before the two winning teams will decide the county championship.

Lou Gehrig Hits Eighth Homer In Cleveland Game

(International News Service)

Westminster Athletes Closing Great Year

There have been years in the history of Westminster college when commencement day one could look back over the sport record for the year and sigh "Well the boys tried." So-called "moral" victories were plentiful, but actual wins over opponents were as scarce as vanity cases in a boiler shop.

This year it's different. Plenty different. He who runs may read if he cares to inconvenience himself, but there isn't any necessity of running and reading this year's record. It's one of those records that bewhiskered alumni will come day point to, and in a cracked voice regale their grandchildren with the glories of 1928-29.

Fight Promoters Have Bowl Fever

Trying To Build Bowls At Ambridge, Beaver Falls
And Masury

SUCCESS DEPENDENT ON SEVERAL FACTORS

Bill Jolly, originator of the bowl idea in this section of the state is sitting back and watching the impressions of other nearby cities dream of bowls. Some of them may go over and some of them may not. It all depends upon the locality, the fever for fighting and whether or not the people who are holding the bowls are in a position to match fighters who appeal to the public.

Promoting fistic proclivities at its best is nothing more than a big gamble. For instance weekly shows are run at the Jolly Bowl. Unless there is at least a $2,000 house every Monday evening the bout is considered a loser. Once the receipts go over that the promoter starts to collect and the pay of the fighters automatically increases with cash.

Base town catches and tornado-like fights at the Jolly have put it over. The name itself was catchy and everything connected with the fight game here was widely exploited. Without good matches and plenty of exploitation no bowl will be a success. People pay to see real fighters but must be told about them. If the fighters are no good exploitation means all.

Pittsburgh has not been a good fight town for years. The last big house in which a New Castle box participated was the Wilson-Joe Chip engagement. Although there are hundreds of thousands of people in Pittsburgh, about $6,000 was the gate receipts. With only $5,000 here Davies and Wolgast drew $5,200. On Monday night we expect Herrera and Ferro to draw $4,000.

The Meyers bowl at Braddock is a fine bowl. If the temperament of the Pittsburgh fans has changed the bowl will go. If not it may not. There is a saying in Pittsburgh that the fans will go to any other place but Pittsburgh to see a fight. Why the writer doesn't know. Pittsburgh recently has had some good fighters with locally known boxers.

This in a way is a good move but in Pittsburgh the transients will have much to do with boxing. They will have to be served with topnotchers or a local boy against a topnotcher. The topnotchers will demand big money and this will mean plenty to the promoters. Every time a topnotcher is billed he either wants to take this bowl away or carry a bank from the city in which he appears. The bouts cannot be staged unless there is a profit.

A bowl is to be built at Ambridge, Pa. There are several new and big industries booked for Ambridge. This makes the outlook rosy. Beaver Falls capital proposes a bowl at Junction Park. Men at Sharon are endeavoring to put over a bowl proposition for Masury, O. There has been talk of a bowl at Warren. Meanwhile the first bowl the Jolly Bowl is running every Monday night.

Get Results Of Games In Early

The 1929 baseball season in New Castle is about to start.

The New Castle News will publish accounts of games played in the various leagues as far as possible, providing the score sheets are turned in to The News office the same night the game is played, or at the very latest by 8 o'clock the next morning. This ruling must be lived up to.

Also, The News will not, under any circumstances, this year compile a standing of any league. If the teams and leagues desire a standing result in The News, they must hand the same in at The News office. Too much time has been wasted in other years in trying to locate ball teams who fail to report games.

If the baseball populace of the city and county will lend their cooperation, the results can be published. Get your scores in early. Make this a slogan for the year. It's up to the team managers.

Thru A Veteran's Eyes

"The Five Greatest Baseball Pilots"

By JOHNNY EVERS.
Central Press Special Writer.
Among the great baseball pilots I have come in contact with during the past 20 years—and I have met many good and bad—there are just five who seem to me to stand out over all the others. Two of these—and lovable characters they were—have already passed on. But the others remain in harness to furnish examples that others might do well to follow.

This quintet is composed of John McGraw, for more than 20 years the despair of his rivals; Connie Mack, Frank Chance, Bill Carrigan and Pat Moran. To my mind these five are and were the types that made ideal leaders, men who knew the game thoroughly with the faculty of being able to impart that information to their players.

The greatest of them all is McGraw. Although a bitter rival of his for many years I am willing to pay him this tribute without any hesitation. He helped to make the going bitter for my club many and many a time. But he always had an objective. There was a method in everything he did.

Mac is the smartest manager I have ever known. He has won many a pennant with a club that didn't have more than the average amount of brains. This is no reflection on the calibre of players that wore the Giants' uniform. It's the fault of conditions in a town where a winner is absolutely demanded. So great is the pressure exerted by New York fans who will stand for none but the best that John McGraw does not have time to bring out possibilities or teach team play. In the Giant outfit a man must keep going continually in high. The moment he falters he must step to one side; then another replaces him. That's why McGraw has to exercise snap judgment, run every play and direct every ball pitched from the bench.

My old leader Frank Chance was a man of entirely different type. A hard task master who drove his men to the limit always, he was a fanatic as regards team play and his constant effort was to develop smart players. That was why the old Cubs were able to use their own brains in pinch and did not seek instructions from the bench.

Connie Mack a great developer of young ballplayers and a manager whose specialty has been in assembling a bunch of heavy hitters on his Philadelphia club, has always been a shrewd tactician and a leader who insists on harmony. Two or three times in the past two decades he had courage enough to break up great ball clubs because he would not stand for internal dissension.

Like Connie Mack, Bill Carrigan will not stand for monopolists. But Bill has always had physical as well as mental power to help him subdue dissatisfied athletes. Carrigan's method of collecting one run at a time and developing a strong defensive game was very much on the Frank Chance system.

The lamented Pat Moran in my opinion was the most beloved manager of all time. He ruled by love—not fear—was a real father to his men and though he never had a really great club his men always outplayed themselves just to prove their love for him. Pat would have made a great clergyman.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Being in a position where it wouldn't have less if it gave everything away, the Brooklyn club has placed Captain Glenn Wright, its $50,000 luxury, on the suspended list "owing to lack of condition, caused by injuries received prior to the opening of the season." He will be sent to his home in Harrisonville, Mo., for a month where he can enjoy peace and quiet and plenty of rest. He has been getting these things in a big way at the Brooklyn ball yard but Mr. Robinson, the Brooklyn manager who arranged the Stellar deal whereby the young man transferred himself here from Pittsburgh, has not been so fortunate. Mr. Robinson is seized with recurrent fits of violence every time the young man crosses his line of vision. So it has been deemed advisable to remove the source of irritation before Mr. Robinson reaches right up with his back teeth and bites his own forehead.

Trainer Falls Down
The removal of Wright, anyhow, was the last official prescription written by Cecil Ferguson, whose one-month contract as the great healer of the ball and the lame in Brooklyn expired today. They paid Dr. Ferguson no less than $5,000 for the month in which he contracted to fiddle a most calamitous array of invalids and, for the most part, it may be said that his ministrations were successful. At one time and another, he has had as many as eight to ten patients in his care and, as he departs for other and more healthful spots, most of them are sound again.

His one failure, however, was more than noteworthy. It was disastrous. For, in reality, he was hired to play keeper to Wright's $50,000 arm and, unfortunately, there was nothing to keep. The patient died last fall, in spite of all solicitation, it has stayed dead.

WESTMINSTER ATHLETES CLOSE GREAT YEAR

games against Bethany, Waynesburg and Geneva the opponents never came any closer to the Westminster goal line than Bryan did to the presidency. As a result of the heads up game the team played, Westminster tied with Duquesne for the conference championship and according to all the dope—well, anyway they tied for the conference championship.

The recapitulation of the football season follows:

Sept. 29—Carnegie Tech at Youngstown 32, Westminster 6.
Oct. 6—Allegheny at home 13, Westminster 6.
Oct. 13—St. Francis at Greensburg 12, Westminster 0.
Oct. 20—Grove City at G. C. 14, Westminster 6.
Oct. 27—Thiel at N. W. O. Westminster 7.
Nov. 3—Duquesne at Pittsburgh 20, Westminster 6.
Nov. 10—Bethany at Bethany 0, Westminster 6.
Nov. 17—Waynesburg at N. W. O. Westminster 13.
Nov. 24—Geneva at N. W. O. Westminster 12.

Comes Basketball.
Like the spring, came basketball, and with the coming of the cage season, a team that had western Pennsylvania by the ears, Coach John Lawther turned out a team that was so far superior to the other teams in this district that the comparison was silly. True, they lost two games of 17 and 18, but they won nothing at all. Westminster scored 600 points to 325 for their opponents. The "cap" of the basketball season follows:

Westminster 40, Grove City 18.
Westminster 23, Duquesne 23.
Westminster 27, Allegheny 25.
Westminster 15, Geneva 13.
Westminster 47, Carnegie Tech 28.
Westminster 31, Detroit City Col. 15.
Westminster 36, Allegheny 12.
Westminster 37, Bethany 22.
Westminster 40, Carnegie Tech 21.
Westminster 29, Bethany 30.
Westminster 26, Wash-Jeff 21.
Westminster 23, Geneva 15.
Westminster 26, Wash-Jeff 13.
Westminster 50, Grove City 8.
Westminster 23, Duquesne 20.
Westminster 33, Thiel 17.

Following basketball victories, the barriers turned in a conference championship and also won the runner-up honors in the Allegheny Mountain association. A. A. U. senior cross country class.

In track so far this spring Westminster has defeated Grove City by a score of 74-1-3 to 55-2-3, and defeated Allegheny 88 to 47. Carnegie Tech, Geneva and Tri-State meets are to be run off yet.

In tennis Westminster has won three matches and lost just exactly none. Duquesne was defeated 6-1, Bethany 6-1 and Allegheny 5-2. Seven more matches remain.

It has been a splendid year in sport for Westminster, a year that will stand out in the history of years, one that shows a lot of victories, a lot of records broken and a lot of promise for the coming years.

Clifton Flats Club Ready For Benefit

The Clifton Flats baseball team announced today that plans have been completed for the big benefit game to be played at the Flats field at 6:30 o'clock on Wednesday, May 22. The National Radiator Colored Stars will oppose the Flats team in the game. The benefit is for Samuel Mooney.

The Flats team is very fortunate in securing the services of the Colored Stars. The 1928 Clifton Flats team will be reorganized for the contest. This game is being arranged for Samuel Mooney who has been in bed for the past four months and who is suffering with a deadly disease, and unless aid is given immediately he has not much chance to live.

No tickets will be sold, but a subscription will be taken up at the field, and it is hoped that the fans will donate willingly to a good cause. All of last year's Clifton Flats players are asked to get in touch with Harry White by calling 2789. Umpires willing to work this game are also asked to get in touch with Mr. White by calling the above number, or writing to Harry White, 2116 Hartman street, New Castle, Pa.

Western Teams Prove Strongest

First Intersectional Clashes At End, Finds West Superiority Over East

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, May 15.—In the first intersectional tests of the season, concluded yesterday, the west proved stronger than the east in both major leagues. The western clubs of the National League demonstrated their superiority by a convincing margin, winning 29 games and losing only 14 on their eastern invasion. In the American League the defending western teams won 23 games and lost 20 gaining the edge by taking nine out of twelve games with the tail-end Boston Red Sox.

While the Western clubs in the National League were aided by the weak opposition of the Brooklyn Robins, who dropped nine of their eleven intersectional engagements, all on the invading clubs showed a winning percentage. The Cubs and Cardinals each won eight out of eleven. Pittsburgh won seven and lost three and Cincinnati had six victories against five defeats.

The Phillies made the best showing on the eastern teams in the National loop. They broke even in ten games. The Giants lost seven out of ten.

Detroit Looks Good.
Detroit had the best record of any team. The Tigers won nine games, lost three, and won all four series. The Yankees won their first seven starts in the west and lost the next four. The Athletics won five and lost four. Washington dropped six out of eleven starts, and the Browns won only three of their nine games.

The end of the first of the intersectional games finds the Cubs and Cardinals tied for first place in the National League, and the Athletics leading the Yankees by half a game in the American.

Cleveland again beat the Yanks yesterday, 7 to 1. Gehrig's eighth homer of the season being the only damage suffered by Joe Shaute.

Detroit nosed out the Athletics to the ninth, 6 to 5, when Catcher Cochrane made the mistake of tagging Harry Heilmann on the head. The ball bounced out of his hand and Harry was knocked unconscious, but the winning run was in.

Boston lost to the Cubs, 7 to 4. Pittsburgh's 9 to 4 victory over Brooklyn marked the Robins' eighth straight defeat.

With Mitchell on the mound, the Cardinals trimmed the Phillies 4 to 1. Red Lucas of Cincinnati, won his fourth straight game in beating the Giants, 12 to 3.

The 9A-2 team kept their slate clean by winning a hard fought game from the 8A-1 team, 3 to 2, in an extraordinary battle. Both teams played fine baseball, and the game was very interesting. 9A-2 gathered twelve hits off Sullivan, while the lofers had eleven hits off Hill and Tommeloo. Compello and Tommeloo were the heavy hitters of the game.

Fifty Tourists' Cars Halt Here Wednesday For Road Information

New Castle was host to no less than 50 passing tourists Wednesday. This number is a certainty and there were probably a large number of others who passed through New Castle on their way north, south, east and west.

At the New Castle Motor club there were 50 tourists cars which stopped long enough at least to get a map and inquire about road conditions and be on their way.

The local motor club is host these days according to Miss Verna Hamilton to a large number of passing tourists.

The warm spell of the past week again has brought increasing numbers out.

Storm Sewer And Stream Discussed

Tyler Wants Action On Sewer Beneath Erie Railroad Track Near Elm Street

Councilman Walter V. Tyler today sounded warning in City Hall that there are two things which he desires to have colleagues put through to a finish.

He wants the Erie railroad to take care of the storm sewer beneath their tracks near Elm street, which is filled up and results in flooding of property.

Not long ago it was reported that the course of the stream had been changed by a Mr. Reed.
